

SLOT MACHINE
WAR REVEALS
'FREE LANCES'

Solicitor Boykin Finds That Two Groups of Operators Have Been Working in Atlanta Recently.

BOYKIN IS PROBING
ALLEGED BRIBERY

Files of Mint Vending Company Are Declared To Furnish Evidence of
"Bought Protection."

While attaches of Solicitor General
John Boykin's office worked feverishly Monday night preparing 100 additional indictments in the drive against slot machine operators, other officials of the office declared that sweeping probes of alleged "bought protection" are in progress and Bert Donaldson, special investigator, revealed the operation of what he called a "free lance" group of operators.

Documentary evidence that "things had been fixed" with persons supposed to be influential in political circles is said to have been found in reading of records of the Atlanta Mint Vending company, which are said to have been confiscated when Donaldson and his aides last Thursday launched the drive against slot machine operators in about 400 Atlanta stories. Other information was withheld pending further investigation but it was announced that the probe is being pushed with vigor.

Two Groups Operating.

Free lance operators are alleged to have stationed their machines in stores, depending on the "protection" already gained by the mint concern to protect them, it was explained. All machines were alike and unless a careful survey was made it was impossible to tell whether the device belonged to the "pool" or to the alleged "wild-cat" group, it was stated.

"It was just a matter of two men getting the protection which by all rights had been paid for only once," Donaldson said. "We believe that money—$7.50 for each machine, to be paid to some one for immunity, but the 'wild cat' group paid nothing. It operated on the protection secured by the pool."

More Indictments Asked.

The grand jury this morning will be asked to return indictments against about 100 other merchants in whose stores machines were located. In event these indictments are returned the total number returned during the drive will reach about 144. A total of 44 indictments were secured last Friday against alleged operators and merchants.

Forty additional machines were seized Monday by Bert Donaldson, who has been directing the offensive against the devices. Twenty were found at a warehouse on Ivy street, Atlanta, while 20 more were located at an establishment on Marietta street, it was said.

"Courts will be asked to deal promptly with merchants who bring the machines to the courthouse and
Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

67-Foot Pearl Rope Willed
Italian King

Bulk of Estate of Queen
Mother Given Crown Prince Humbert.

Rome, January 11.—(By United Press.)—A 67-foot rope of pearls was willed to King Victor Emmanuel by his late queen mother, Margherita, according to reliable reports of the royal bequests.

Margherita's pearl collar was second only to that of the Maharajah of Sarpurthala in value and beauty.
King Humbert began the collar for his queen and gave her a string of pearls on each birthday. Margherita bought other strings herself.

The collar, which now is to go to the king, consists of 32 strings of pearls worth 220,000,000 lire.
Several priceless emeralds and other jewels are distributed among the family by Margherita's will, but the bulk of her estate goes to Crown Prince Humbert, whom she particularly loved.

QUEEN MOTHER BURIED WITH ROYAL SPLENDOR

Rome, January 11.—(By United Press.)—The pantheon, noted temple of the "Eternal City," received today the body of the pious Queen Margherita. The ceremony of entombment beside her husband, King Humbert, in the presence of her son, the King of Italy, was beautiful in its religious solemnity and regal splendor.
As the king and queen, princes and
Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

FINANCE COMMITTEE
CALLS FOR ELECTION
ON $6,000,000 BONDSSCHOOLS TO GET
$2,000,000 FUND
BY BOARD'S PLAN

Erection of Viaducts, Sewer Improvements And New City Hall Are Included in Proposal.

MAYOR APPROVES
VOTE BY PEOPLE

Finance Committee Anxious That Issue Be Decided on Same Date as Fulton County Primary.

A special election the latter part of March or early April to determine the issue of $6,000,000 in bonds for schools, sewers, viaducts and a new city hall, was provided in resolutions adopted unanimously by council's finance committee Monday at conclusion of a lengthy session, at which the 1926 finance sheet was completed.

The bonds would be allocated as follows:

Schools—$2,000,000.
Sewers, including funds sufficient to move the Peachtree creek disposal plant to a point closer to the river—$2,000,000.

City's part of construction of Central avenue and Pryor street viaducts
—$1,000,000.

For new city hall on unnamed location—$1,000,000.

Resolution to Council.

The resolution is to be submitted to city council next Monday with every indication it will be adopted unanimously.

It was the sense of the committee that the bond election should be held on the same date as the Fulton county white primary, which is usually held in early spring. Until the county executive committee fixes the exact date of the primary, it is likely that council will defer naming the date for the bond election.

Mayor Sims expressed his willingness to agree to submission of the bond issue items to the voters.

Schools had requested a $5,000,000 bond issue to care for present needs and those that may arise within a few years. The $2,000,000 bond issue, if approved, however, will give the schools opportunity to replace six percent frame school houses classed as "unsafe and unsatisfactory," and to build necessary new school houses and annexes in communities that have grown so fast as to make present school houses inadequate.

The finance committee's action was in keeping with recommendations contained in Mayor Sims' annual message to council a week ago. The mayor had advocated a bond issue in the neighborhood of $5,000,000, declaring belief that interest and sinking fund of a bond issue of that size could be met out of current revenues.
He strenuously opposed any issuance of bonds that would necessitate an increase in the tax rate.

Specific purposes to which school and sewer bonds would be applied was not set forth, the finance committee electing to leave this to council as a whole.

The committee, however, was in accord in stressing the importance of early action toward removing the Peachtree disposal plant from the rapidly growing Peachtree road section. The plant has been termed a nuisance by scores of residents. Fulton county's aid in removing the plant is to be sought, as the plant is outside the city limits of Atlanta.

COAL CONFERENCE
CLOSE TO BREAK

Statement by John L.
Lewis Indicates Miners' Representatives May Walk Out of Meeting.

BY LEO J. CASEY.

United News Staff Correspondent.
New York, January 11.—The anthraxite conference is dangerously near a break, with no agreement to end the deadlock which has existed since July 9, and the strike which began the first of September.

Until Monday night, only unofficial reports furnished inklings of any expressed bitterness between the two factions. Despite the fact that both sides were known to be as far apart as ever on the question of a peace plan, there was nothing in the official joint statements that showed that either side accused the other of attempting to force an end to the joint conference.

But a statement issued by John L.
Lewis at the close of Monday's session said that the latest proposal of
Continued on Page 5, Column 4.

Opera Stars
Are Quizzed
In Gang War

Baritone Declares He Knew Slain Gangster Only as Opera Lover.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and
The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, January 11.—Desire Defriere, famous French baritone of the Chicago Grand Opera company, and another member of the company were taken to the Maxwell street police station today and questioned in connection with the assassination yesterday of Henry J. Spingola, brother-in-law of the notorious Genna brothers, gangsters, murderers and bootleggers.

The police learned that Defriere had been playing cards with Spingola just before he was shot to death. Defriere and the other member of the opera company, whose name is withheld, were still in the Amato restaurant when Spingola stepped out and into the ambush prepared by his enemies.

The opera singers told the police they knew nothing of the murder.
They knew Spingola the opera-lover and man-about-town, not Spingola the gangster, they said. After they had signed a statement at the state attorney office, both singers were released.

$315,000 IS VOTED
SPECIAL STREET
PROJECTS IN CITY

Finance Sheet Completed
Monday and Given High Praise by Mayor; 100
Pay Hikes Voted.

A year of record municipal achievements was forecast in city hall circles Monday after the city council finance committee had completed the January finance sheet, which includes appropriations of $315,000 for special street projects, $72,100 for improvements in the city's parks, $25,000 for remodeling the old stockade fireproof structure into a grammar school, $20,000 to develop Candler field and $2,928-69.14 to the Atlanta public schools. The school quota is the equivalent of almost one-third of the city's anticipated revenue, $9,130,000.

The sheet was signed by all members of the committee after Mayor Walter A. Sims had been invited to appear before the committee and check each item.

"I regard the sheet as one of the best prepared in years," Mayor Sims told the committee. "There are, of course, some items of which I do not approve. But I realize it is impossible to compile a sheet that will please everybody. This committee is to be congratulated on its faithful and earnest consideration of the city's interests."

While the mayor was non-com-
Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

LANGLEY RESIGNS SEAT IN CONGRESS

Action Follows Refusal
Of Supreme Court to Review His Conviction
On Liquor Charge.

Washington, January 11.—(By United Press.)—The resignation of Representative Langley, republican, Kentucky, was received and accepted today by the house. It was tendered in a letter, after the supreme court had refused to review his conviction for violation of the prohibition law.

The resignation was sent some time ago to Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, who headed a special house committee to investigate the charges against him, to be tendered immediately if the court should render an adverse decision, and was presented to the house by Speaker Longworth.

The Kentucky member reiterated in the letter that he was innocent of the charges against him and predicted that time would vindicate him.
"I am, coupled with a desire not to cause 'my colleagues any embarassment,' prevented his personal appearance, it said.

LANGLEY STARTS HERE
TODAY TO SERVE TERM.

Pikeville, Ky., January 11.—(By United Press.)—John W. Langley, who today resigned his seat as representative in congress from this district, is planning to leave tomorrow or Wednesday for Atlanta to begin serving his two-year sentence in the federal penitentiary for viola-
Continued on Page 5, Column 3.

DEMOCRATIC TAX PLAN VOTED DOWN IN QUICK FASHION

Slight Increase in Corporation Tax Also Voted After Consideration of Bill Passed by House.

TAX IS RESTORED
UPON AUTO TRUCKS

Most of Provisions of House Bill Accepted by Senate Committee Without Any Changes.

Washington, January 11.—(By United Press.)—Vital rate-reducing provisions of the house revenue bill, including the important income tax schedules, were accepted today by the senate finance committee in rejecting the democratic program calling for a total tax reduction of $500,000,000.

Bipartisan support was given the reductions in normal income tax rates and the increased personal exemptions approved by the house men-
"and to some alterations voted in the bill, but the committee divided on strict party lines on the three propositions by which the democrats planned to increase the total reduction by $170,000,000 over the $330,000,000 already provided for.

Changes in House Bill.

The following changes in the non-partisan house bill were ordered:

Repeal of the capital stock levy of $1 for each $1,000 of stock in excess of $5,000.

Increase of the corporation tax from 12-1/2 per cent to 13 per cent on taxes paid in 1926, and to 13-1/2 per cent thereafter.

Increase of the admission tax exemptions to apply to tickets costing 75 cents or less, instead of 50 cents, the present limit.

Elimination of the house provision allowing exemption from the admission tax on tickets sold for the "spoken drama."

Restoration to the bill of a 2 per cent tax on automobile trucks. The house had voted to repeal the present 3 per cent levy on trucks.

Tax on Cigars Is Cut.

Further reductions in the taxes on cigars selling for 5, 8 and 15 cents.
Increase by double the tax applying on foreign-built yachts and motor boats.

The following provisions of the house bill were accepted:

Reduction in the normal income tax from 2 to 1-1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 of taxable income, from 4 to 2 per cent on the next $4,000 income, and from 6 to 5 per cent on the remainder.

Reduction in the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent, with readjustment of the surtax rates applying on incomes between $44,000 and $100,000, above which the maximum would apply.

Reduction of the personal exemptions from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons.

Repeal of the excise tax on jewelry, automobile tires and parts and cameras, photographic films and plates, firearms and shells, smokers' articles, coin-operated devices, and mah-jongg sets.

Repeal of the taxes on works of art, books, tobacco, amusements, resolving alleys, pool and billiard tables, showing galleries and riding academies, automobiles for hire, and use of domestic-built yachts.

Reduction of the $2 tax on dispensers of narcotic drugs to $1.
Reductions in the taxes on other classes of cigars.

King Alfonso Would Make Star Reporter, Says Envoy

MONARCH HAS BEEN MISREPRESENTED, IS CLAIM

New York, January 11.—"If the King of Spain were to come to this country he probably would become the best newspaper reporter in the United States," according to Alexander C.
Moore, who "used to be an old newspaper man himself" and who recently retired as American ambassador to the court at Madrid.

Moore's admiration for King Alfonso is large. He was in a position of advantage to observe King Alfonso at close range, for, in his own words, the Spanish royal house "made a pet of" the former Pittsburgh publisher.

Moore believes that Alfonso has been badly misrepresented in the United States.
"His majesty is one of the shrewd-est men I have met," said Moore in an interview Friday.

"He is interested in men for what they have achieved, not for their social standing," said the former ambassador. "If one is a good mousetrap maker, a good banker or a good reporter, that is enough for Alfonso."

"Except," he hastened to add, "that the king will ask 'why?' He always is curious to know how he succeeded, and would make the best reporter in
Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

4,000 CHASING
MEX BANDITS
WHO KILLED 50

Score of Revolutionists Butcher Train Guards and Shoot Down Unarmed Passengers.

WOMEN, CHILDREN ARE AMONG VICTIMS

Gruesome Tale of Dastardly Murders Revealed When Virginian Reaches Mexico City.

Mexico City, January 11.—(By United Press.)—Through the bleak mountain passages of the states of Michoacan, Jalisco and Guerrero, 4,000 picked federal troops are in pursuit of 20 bandits who, Saturday night, carried out the most cold-blooded slaughter in Mexico's history.

Boarding a passenger train in disguise and with weapons concealed under their cloaks, the bandits, without warning, sprang upon the guards with knives and butchered them to a man.
Then they opened fire on defenseless
Mexican men, women and children.
The number of dead probably never will be known, but the estimates run as high as 50.

They wrecked and burned the train,
cremating the dead and wounded alike,
looted the town of Yurucaro and escaped with their loot on the engine.
The troops, operating under the direct orders of President Calles, will return in disgrace or else bring back the bandits—dead or alive.

Few persons in Mexico City are so credulous as to believe that any of the bandits will be returned alive.

VIRGINIAN DESCRIBES MURDERS OF MEXICANS.

Mexico City, January 11.—(By United Press.)—G. M. Wynkoop, of Berryville, Va., representative of the Buick Motor company, and one of the two Americans aboard the train attacked by bandits Saturday night, gave The Associated Press a graphic account of the ghastly affair. He was the first survivor to reach Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynkoop walked almost Saturday night and most of Sunday before they reached a station from which they were able to make a cir-cumspect journey to Mexico City.

"I saw nine soldier guards dead," he said. "I believe all the guards and most of the crew were killed.
The number of murdered Mexican passengers I do not know, but some of my companions estimated them all the way from 20 to 50."

20 Suspicious Men On Train.

"About dark Saturday, I noticed 20 suspicious appearing men carrying rifles concealed under their cloaks who boarded the train as passengers at a small station near Guadalajara.
Presently, they stationed themselves at the doors of the coaches and without warning opened fire upon the passengers in the second and third-class coaches. They continued firing without mercy, killing many of the passengers and all the soldier guards."

"I saw several dead Mexican women and children, in addition to men, how many I do not know, I could not see. It was a ruthless massacre and a most terrible sight. Even now I can hardly believe that such an awful thing happened."

"I doubt if anybody will ever accurately know the number of dead and wounded. I saw wounded men, and others killed instantly. I saw one aged woman writhing in horrible agony, her body shot open. I saw a little baby shot through the heart. I saw bodies so burned as to
Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

THOMAS J. FELDER
PASSES IN PARIS

Death of Banker Formerly Living in Atlanta and Americus Due to Pleurisy.

News of the death on Monday, in Paris, France, of Thomas J. Felder
came as a shock to relatives and friends in Atlanta, where Mr. Felder
formerly lived. The news came in a telegram to J. B. Felder, a brother, stating that death was due to pleurisy. Funeral arrangements, it was said,
would be announced later.

Mr. Felder is survived by his widow and the following brothers and sisters:
Mrs. Logan T. Williamson, K. T. Felder and J. B. Felder, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Sydney Hogerton and C. W. Fel-
der, of Chicago.

Born in Americus in 1870, the son
of the late Captain John B. Felder
and Mrs. Lucy Taylor Felder, Mr.
Felder came to Atlanta at an early age and engaged in the banking business with the Corbin Banking company, of New York. He was active in business and a leader in social circles during his residence here.

Leaving Atlanta, Mr. Felder went to New York with the Corbin company, where he remained until the death of Mr. Corbin. He then removed to Nashville, Tenn., and joined Samuel Murphy in the street railway
business, inheriting the street railway
Continued on Page 5, Column 5.

SHOALS SETTLEMENT
AT THIS SESSION SEEN
BY SENATE LEADERSHOFFMAN DENIES INTENT TO 'OPEN' SUNDAY IN CITY

Leader of Move for Liberal Rule on Amusements Says Suggestion Misunderstood.

ATLANTA PASTORS
FLAY MOVEMENT

Dr. D. P. McGeachy and
Dr. Witherspoon Dodge Protest Against Complete Condemnation.

"The movement to open additional avenues of wholesome amusement in Atlanta on Sundays was launched in good temper without a thought of making Atlanta a wide open town, and is supported by men who would actively oppose a wide open continental Sunday, or a commercialized Sunday here," according to a statement Monday by
W. D. Hoffman, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"The Evangelical Ministers' association of Atlanta and the respective ministerial associations of Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterian and Christian Disciples have evidently completely misunderstood this movement from its very inception," Mr. Hoffman said in discussing resolutions adopted by these associations Monday.

"Before any attempt would be made
to break down the Christian Sabbath,
to commercialize Sunday or in any other way to vary or change the moral tone of Atlanta, except for the better, this entire movement would be dropped flatly," he added.

No Extreme Views.

Outlining the situation further, Mr.
Hoffman said the movement is not extreme in any direction. He said he had made the original suggestion himself at the meeting of the Atlanta Rotary club and had made the suggestion in a spirit and temper concurrent with a desire to do a real service to Atlanta in a real way.

Condemnatory resolutions were adopted Monday at meetings of the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers' association, the Methodist Ministers' association, the Baptist Ministers' association, and the Christian Disciple Ministers of Atlanta.

Almost simultaneously with publication of these resolutions came announcement that Argonne post No. 1 of the American Legion adopted resolutions unanimously endorsing the suggestion made by Mr. Hoffman at the Rotary club and assuring him of the complete cooperation of that organization in carrying out such a program which would not conflict with church services.

Another development came in a letter received by Mr. Hoffman from Dr. D. P. McGeachy, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church, who is a member of the Atlanta Ministers' association.

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

THOMAS J. FELDER
PASSES IN PARIS

Death of Banker Formerly Living in Atlanta and Americus Due to Pleu-
risy.

News of the death on Monday, in
Paris, France, of Thomas J. Felder
came as a shock to relatives and
friends in Atlanta, where Mr. Felder
formerly lived. The news came in a telegram to J. B. Felder, a brother,
stating that death was due to pleu-
risy. Funeral arrangements, it was said,
would be announced later.

Mr. Felder is survived by his widow
and the following brothers and sisters:
Mrs. Logan T. Williamson, K. T. Fel-
der and J. B. Felder, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Sydney Hogerton and C. W. Fel-
der, of Chicago.

Born in Americus in 1870, the son
of the late Captain John B. Felder
and Mrs. Lucy Taylor Felder, Mr.
Felder came to Atlanta at an early age and engaged in the banking business with the Corbin Banking company, of New York. He was active in business and a leader in social
circles during his residence here.

Leaving Atlanta, Mr. Felder went
to New York with the Corbin company, where he remained until the death of Mr. Corbin. He then removed to Nashville, Tenn., and joined Samuel Murphy in the street railway
business, inheriting the street railway
Continued on Page 5, Column 5.

Department Store To Sell
Real Estate

The Fair in Chicago Will Sell Lot, Build Home and Furnish It.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and
The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, January 11.—Department stores already sell everything from hair ribbons to coal, operate drug stores, radio and dancing schools and conduct creches where women shoppers may deposit their babies while they do their purchasing.

Now The Fair store announces that, in addition to covering every other known activity, it will engage in the business of selling real estate, building houses and furnishing them complete.

"We are attempting to put into The Fair plan," said General Manager D. E. Kelly, "by which a customer can walk into our store, with his money ready, and, after passing a few hours, can go out the owner of everything from the pork chops frying in the pan to the hedge that runs around his lawn."

"We will furnish the home and also furnish the furnishings for the home.
A small payment will be made by the purchaser and he will take title, subject to the mortgage which we hold.
The installment payments will be made low enough for anyone buying real estate for home purposes from us."

"The movement to open additional
avenues of wholesome amusement in Atlanta on Sundays was launched in
good temper without a thought of making Atlanta a wide open town, and is supported by men who would actively
oppose a wide open continental Sunday, or a commercialized Sunday here,"
according to a statement Monday by
W. D. Hoffman, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"The Evangelical Ministers' association of Atlanta and the respective ministerial associations of Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterian and Christian Disciples have evidently completely misunderstood this movement from its
very inception," Mr. Hoffman said in discussing resolutions adopted by these associations Monday.

"Before any attempt would be made
to break down the Christian Sabbath,
to commercialize Sunday or in any other way to vary or change the moral
tone of Atlanta, except for the better, this entire movement would be
dropped flatly," he added.

Revolt of Corn Farmers Against Administration Gaining in Momentum

Movement for Relief Takes Form Along Five Broad Avenues as Week Opens.

BY EARL J. JOHNSON.

Chicago, January 11.—The western corn revolt is rolling along at a determined pace. Before the farmers have brought their crusade to an end it may overshadow the populist uprising, the non-partisan league movement or the more recent wheat flare-up of 1921.

Judging from the rapidity with which the revolt is gaining momentum, the growers of corn are ready to tell the country with emphasis that they must be given an economic status on a parity with the factory worker or the railroad employee who lives in the city.

Monday the movement against con-

AN OBLIGING BEAUTY DOCTOR

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off."—(adv.)

Stephen Philibosian, Inc.

270-280 Peachtree Street

Rugs and Draperies
STRICTLY CASH

Bank and Trust Company Officers and Employees Enjoy Dinner-Dance

Three hundred officers and employees of the Atlanta and Lowry National bank and the Trust Company of Georgia and their wives and husbands were guests at an informal dinner-dance at the Druid Hills Golf club Saturday night. The picture shows the guests gathered at the tables while the dinner was being served. A program of dances, songs and talks was given during the dinner which was followed by a dance.

Railroads Help Boost Concert By Paderewski

Railroads running into Atlanta are cooperating to make the Paderewski concert here January 29 an event of civic as well as musical interest in Atlanta. It was announced Monday by officers of the Atlanta Music club, which will present the famous pianist as well as a number of other internationally-known artists during the next three months.

Announcements of the concert are being broadcast over a radius of 100 miles from Atlanta and information concerning it is to be given to tourists who will be passing through the city the day of the concert and the day before to encourage them to stop over.

"OK"

Lew Adler

FREIGHT MEN HOLD CONVENTION TODAY

A two-day session of the Southeastern Freight association will open at 10 o'clock this morning at the Biltmore hotel. Only routine business will come up for discussion.

Arkansas Pardons Issued by McCall Declared Illegal

Little Rock, Ark., January 11.—(AP) The Arkansas supreme court today held that the nine pardons granted by S. B. McCall, acting governor, during the recent temporary absence of Governor Tom J. Terrill, from Arkansas, are illegal.

The court held in passing on the case of W. W. Gillespie, of North Little Rock, one of the men pardoned, that the act of 1903 requiring that pardon petitions be advertised, except where the governor acts on his own initiative and so notes in the pardon proclamation, was constitutional.

As a result the Gillespie pardon was held to be illegal and by inference all of the others were held void. Pardons were granted the nine men by the acting governor last October while Governor Terrill was absent from the state attending a conference of governors of Birmingham, Ala. This action was contrary to the "no-pardon" policy pursued by the governor. When he learned of the granting of the pardons Governor Terrill made a hurried trip back to Arkansas and took steps to have the pardons set aside.

Acting under instructions of the governor Dee Horton, penitentiary warden, re-arrested Gillespie, but he was ordered released under a chancery court ruling in habeas corpus proceedings, the chancery holding the pardons legal.

Today's supreme court ruling was on an appeal from the chancery court decision.

4,000 IN PURSUIT OF MEXICAN BANDITS

Continued from First Page.

be almost indistinguishable from the charred timbers of the coaches. Altogether, it was a perfect nightmare of incredibly wanton bloodthirstiness.

"The sole and only mercy, which I cannot explain, was shown to foreigners. Not a foreigner was killed. A number of Germans in the Pullman, together with passengers of other nationalities, escaped unhurt.

Robbed Foreign Men.
"Although the bandits did not harm any foreigners in the Pullman, they took all valuables from the men, but did not rob the foreign women. After they had done their work of massacre and robbery, the bandits, who had with them an expert engineer, ran the train to Yucunaro station, looted the town, wrecked the depot, destroyed telegraph wires, shot more Mexicans, disembarked all the foreigners and ran the train for a short distance. They then burned and wrecked every coach, stripping the express baggage car of all valuables. Many of the bodies of the murdered Mexicans were cremated.

"The bandits boarded the engine, after loading it with the loot, and made their escape. Not a single shot was fired at them for the soldiers' guards were killed on the first attack, and the passengers were too fearful to attempt resistance.

Call Selves Revolutionists.
"I heard the bandits shout: 'We are not bandits; we are revolutionists.' I asked one of them: 'Who are you rebelling against?' He answered 'Calles. You watch developments. The revolution is not over.'

"I was told that the bandits were all well-known revolutionary figures of the Guadalupe region.
"Most of the foreign passengers camped out all night in the wrecked town of Yucunaro. Some walked all Saturday night and most of them made their way to Guadalupe. My wife and myself, after considering the hardship, succeeded in reaching a point where we could board a train for Mexico City."

SLOT MACHINE WAR REVEALS FREE LANCES

Continued from First Page.

surrender them," Mr. Boykin announced Monday night. "Of course I am not the judge and can't recommend, but I would be disposed to ask the court to take into consideration an attitude of cooperation on the part of the merchants. We know that there are other machines out, and we know the stores in which they were located, and if these merchants will come in and tell us that they were not aware that they were violating the law and surrender the machines we will be disposed to deal as lightly with them as possible.

Mr. Boykin proceeded against the machines on the theory that they are in direct violation of the state anti-gambling laws. More than 405 have been confiscated and Mr. Boykin stated Monday that he will seek a court order to allow him to destroy them. He also said he will ask the grand jury to act against all owners of stores in which the machines were stationed prior to the raids.

67-FOOT PEARL ROPE WILLED ITALIAN KING

Continued from First Page.

princesses, Italy's most distinguished men and women and representatives of nearly all the nations, stood in the large round temple in absolute darkness, a single cone of white light beamed down on the catafalque in the middle of the room. One clear voice singing the "Subvenite," broke the silence; then a group of cuirassiers, with helmets and breastplates, strode slowly into the circle of light, carrying the coffin, which was placed on the catafalque, the light reflecting their steel helmets and solid gold crown resting on the bier.

A Cold Calls for four helps Apply all at once

You can stop a cold in 24 hours in the right way. Apply that method when a cold first appears, and it does not get a state.

That way is HILL'S. It meets all the requirements. It stops the cold, checks the fever, opens the bowels, tones the entire system. It does this without the ill effects of old-time remedies for colds.

HILL'S is so efficient that we paid $100,000 for it. It is so well-proved that millions have come to employ it. Every winter a large percentage of all colds are being ended by it, and at once.

Get this supreme help. Get it at once. Don't let that cold drift on. You'll find relief tomorrow if you start today. At your drug store.

Be Sure It's HILL'S Price 30c
CASCARA & QUININE
Get Red Box BRAND with Parfums

NUMEROUS BURGLARY CASES ARE REPORTED

A number of petty robberies in various sections of Atlanta were reported to the police Monday.

An expensive mink coat, with a fox collar, lined with brown silk, was stolen from the store of L. Chajage, 10 Peachtree street.

Miss Annie Buckner, 360 Capitol avenue, notified police of the theft of a diamond platinum ring; J. A. Britt, 19 White Oak avenue, lost a gold watch, and Mrs. J. D. Holder, of 115 Linwood place, a woman's Swiss watch with a monogram.

The store of A. C. Wooley and company, 167 Madison avenue, was burglarized. The loot included two fountain pens, a desk clock in a leather case, a gold-handled letter opener and $1.50 in cash.

O. S. Stephens, of Columbus, reported the theft of a suitcase containing women's and children's clothing, and another suitcase with clothing and a pistol, from his car parked on Forsyth street.

E. P. Hardy, of the Y. M. C. A., was robbed of a brown overcoat; J. R. Henson, Hapeville, carpenter's tools; M. E. Thompson, of Emory university, an overcoat, and T. M. Fellers, of 54 Walton street, an electric drill.

Details of Power Merger Discussed, New York Report

Details of the consolidation of the Georgia Railway and Power company with the Southeastern Power and Light company were considered Monday at a meeting in New York of representatives of the two companies, according to reports received in Atlanta.

H. M. Atkinson, chairman of the board of the Georgia Railway and Power company, was in New York. It was learned at the offices of the company, but officials here declined to discuss the reported merger. W. J. Henderson, vice president of the Southeastern company, and Sidney E. Mitchell, president of the Electric Bond and Share company, of which the Southeastern company is a subsidiary, both declined to discuss the merger. Mr. Henderson said reports of the merger were news to him, while Mr. Mitchell characterized the report as "bunk."

Despite these denials, reports persisted locally that the final arrangements for the transfer of control of the Georgia company to the Southeastern were now being worked out in New York. It was stated that the deal was closed on a basis of one share of Georgia Railway and Power company common stock for one share of Southeastern common, plus 1 3-10 shares of a new 4 per cent participating preferred stock to be issued by the Southeastern and $25 in cash.

JUSTICE OF PEACE FORCED TO RESIGN BY POOR BUSINESS

Due to lack of business J. B. Turner, of Ben Hill, justice of peace, Monday offered his resignation to Governor Clifford Walker. In retiring Mr. Turner said that he qualified as justice January 1, 1925, and since that time has had only one case to decide.

He stated that all of the justice court cases have been tried by B. P. Suttles, notary public and ex-officio justice of peace. He said that there is not enough business for two justices.

KAMPER'S ATLANTA

FREE 295 Choice Recipes

80 Recipes for Using Apples
60 Recipes for Cooking Star Hams
155 Recipes for Preparing Meats

Ask our boys—the books are free.

Forequarter Beef Roast—
Buy a large one—enough to last several days—Pound.....25c

Fish—Fat and Thick—
Salt Mullet Roe—Pound.....50c
Salt Mackerel—Each 35c and.....15c
Salt Bloater Mackerel—Finest packed, 2-lb., each.....75c

Sausages—
Jones' Dairy Farm Little Sausage—Pound.....50c
Jones' Dairy Farm Pan Sausage—Pound.....50c Grandmother Brand Little Sausage—Pound.....40c

Yuban Coffee Demonstration

Drop into our Main Store any day this week and have a cup of this delicious coffee.

REMEMBER: We grind our coffees especially for YOUR coffee pot.

Battle Creek Health Foods—
Gluten Bread—Crackers—Gluten Flour
Special Broths and Bouillon Cubes.
PREMIER CHICKEN BROTH—Cans.....25c

Anything that the doctor orders in the way of appetizing and tasty foods for the sick and delicate is to be found in our stock.

Three Specials This Week—
Crystallized Ginger—Pound.....50c
Octagon Scouring Cleanser—4 cans for.....25c
Pure Hog Lard—Pound.....10c

Special Sale
Formosa Oolong
Tea

We have 30 One-Pound Caddies in original packages. To close—CADDIES, Each.....$1.40

Eight Special Offerings—
Old-Fashioned Apple Sauce—Cans 35c and.....25c Club House Pork and Beans—15 oz. cans, dozen.....$1.50
Celeste Sliced Pineapple—Cans.....31c
Tulsa Strawberries—In heavy syrup, cans.....25c
Full Ripe Evaporated Apricots—Pound.....25c
Alabama Preserved Figs—5-oz. jars, dozen.....2.00
Sauerkraut—Fine winter food, 2 lbs. for.....25c

Get Happy!
Give Your Chicks a "Happy" Start

Keep Them Happy Thru the Growing Periods.

"Get Happy Feeds in Red Ball Bags"

Plenty of Fresh Vegetables—
Cucumbers Beets Bell Peppers Cauliflower Squash
Spinach Turnip Salad Carrots Bunched Turnips
Eggplant Rhubarb Snap Beans
Burr Artichokes Brussels Sprouts Collards
Telephone Peas Spring Onions
New Red Potatoes Boston Lettuce Oyster Plant
Iceberg Lettuce New Green Cabbage
White Cabbage

AND NEARLY ANYTHING ELSE YOU CAN MENTION.

Kamper's

Address Mail Orders to the MAIN STORE, 492-498 Peachtree
Eighteen Telephones—HEmlock 5000

KAMPER'S ATLANTA

Backhead Store 2537 Peachtree HEmlock 6000

Tenth St. Store 523 Peachtree HEmlock 5700

Address Mail Orders to the MAIN STORE, 492-498 Peachtree
Eighteen Telephones—HEmlock 5000

KAMPER'S ATLANTA

EXAMINE the credentials of the builder of any car you think of buying. Be sure there is stability behind the car. Be certain that it will not some day join the ranks of the million and more unmarketable "orphan" cars whose builders have quit.

Buick motor cars are backed by vast resources of men, equipment, investment and success. The Buick factory is a mile and a half long. The Buick engineering staff is the largest in the service of any motor car manufacturer. The Buick sales and service organization numbers 4000, with millions invested in show-rooms and Authorized Service Stations all over America.

And Buick leads in public preference, the indispensable factor in motor car success. For eight consecutive years, the public has invested more money in Buicks than in the cars of any other member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Not one of the million "orphans" on the roads today was built by Buick. None ever will be!

BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN, Division of General Motors Corporation

the Better Buick

Better Buick Six Cylinder Valve-in-Head motor cars range in price from $1125 to $1995, f. o. b. Buick factories. Among the Buick open and closed models there is one that will meet your desires exactly.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

ATLANTA BRANCH

350-354 SPRING STREET

ACCIDENTS LOWER DURING PAST WEEK

A sharp decrease in the number of traffic fatalities in the south was noted in a survey for the week by the Associated Press. Forty-eight were killed and 225 injured by train, automobile, trolley and motorcycle, the survey showed.

The previous week 61 deaths were recorded and Christmas week 70 were killed in the 11 states covered by the survey.

North Carolina and Florida tied for first place with 14 deaths each, but Florida exceeded in number of injuries with 52. North Carolina reported 19 injuries. Mississippi and Virginia reported no deaths. Alabama and South Carolina reported no injuries.

The outstanding accidents of the week were those of a train collision at Titusville, Fla., in which three were killed and 30 injured, including W.

STATE ENTOMOLOGIST RESIGNS HIS POST

Resignation of Ira Williams, for several years state entomologist of Georgia, was announced at the capitol on Monday. The resignation is to be effective February 1 and Mr. Williams will be succeeded by H. J. DeLaPerelle.

Mr. DeLaPerelle has been assistant state entomologist for almost a year. He came here from Porto Rico, where he was in the service of the federal government. He is an expert entomologist and stands high in the profession. He is a native of Kentucky.

Mr. Williams is resigning, it is said, to accept a position with a company manufacturing calcium arsenate.

The state entomologist is under the supervision of the state entomological board, which recently held a meeting and accepted Mr. Williams' resignation, and elected Mr. DeLaPerelle to fill the vacancy. The chief duty of the office is to direct the

PRISONER ESCAPES AFTER SENTENCE BY CLEVER RUSE

After being sentenced Monday morning to 30 days' imprisonment, on charges of being drunk and disorderly, C. W. Nelson, 21, of 137 Oliver street, escaped from the minions of the law after being in durance vile for only a few hours.

After being sentenced by Recorder A. W. Calloway and bound over under $300 bond on other charges of assault and battery, Nelson was lodged in police station. He had been there only a few minutes when he asked Turnkey R. E. Malone for permission to do some telephoning.

While Nelson was lifting the telephone receiver from the hook, his keen eyes observed that a young lady visitor had entered. When she left the jail, he stepped alongside and followed her out unnoticed. His absence became known a few minutes later. He had not been apprehended late Monday night.

fight against insect pests which attack the crops and other resources of the state.

Russian Concert Tickets In Brisk Demand First Day

Professor Sergei Socoloff, who will direct Russian Cossack chorus in concert here.

Brisk demand for tickets to the concert Friday night of the Russian Cossack chorus was reported Monday by members of the committee in charge. The entertainment will be presented at the Atlanta Woman's club under joint auspices of the American Legion and the international relations committee of the woman's club. Professor Sergei Socoloff, director, will have charge. There are 14 members of the chorus, each member having seen service in the Russian imperial cavalry during the world war as an officer.

SOUTHERN DENTAL CLASSES ELECT 1926 OFFICERS

All classes of the Atlanta Southern Dental college recently held elections to fill various class officers for the session of 1925-1926. These officers, who will serve the full scholastic year, follow:

Senior Class—President, A. R. Kistler, Lawndale, N. C.; vice president, H. H. Butler, Hull, Ga.; secretary, George C. Albright, Laurens, S. C.; treasurer, S. P. Sanders, Luverne, Ala.

Junior Class—President, C. H. Wadsworth, Concord, N. C.; vice president, A. D. Biggers, Cullman, Ala.; secretary, Allen Oldham, Atlanta, Ga.; treasurer, E. L. Cumber, Jr., West Point, Ga.

Sophomore Class—President, L. T. Coffey, Knoxville, Tenn.; vice president, G. D. Davis, Snowdown, Ala.; secretary, O. Johnson, Pike Road, Ala.; treasurer, A. H. Johnson, Nassau, Bahamas.

Freshman Class—President, G. W. Farrington, Chicago, Ill.; vice president, H. L. Press, Johnson City, Tenn.; secretary, F. O. Conrad, Charlotte, N. C.; treasurer, C. W. Saunders, Four Oaks, N. C.

20 Per Cent Cash Dividend Is Voted By West Point Road

An extra cash dividend of 20 per cent was voted at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Atlanta & West Point railroad, Monday. The meeting was held in the local offices of the company and the dividend is to be payable February 1 to stockholders of record January 20.

This extra dividend, which is in addition to the regular rate of 7 per cent annually, payable semi-annually at 3 1/2 per cent, indicates remarkable prosperity by the road, which serves a territory embracing some of the best and most highly developed agricultural and industrial sections of Georgia and Alabama.

There are reported to be 24,636 shares of the stock outstanding, which, on a basis of par of $100, makes a capitalization of $2,463,600. The stock is selling well above par and is chiefly held by investors in this section.

The Western Railway of Alabama is owned by the Atlanta & West Point but the extra dividend applies only to the latter company, the directors of the Western Railway of Alabama not having been included in the meeting.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Atlanta & West Point will be held in April, at which time the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 1/2 per cent will be up for action.

Officials of the system are said to be extremely optimistic over the declaration of this extra dividend is construed as tangible evidence of their optimism. It reflects, it is said, not only the prosperity of the section served, but the increased efficiency of the system and a gratifying increase in net earnings.

Charles A. Wickersham, one of the leading railroad officials of the south, is president of the Atlanta & West Point.

Directors attending the meeting Monday included Mr. Wickersham; W. L. Mapother, Louisville; L. A. Downs, president of the Central of Georgia railway, of Savannah; A. R. Lawton, Savannah; H. C. Fisher, Newnan, Ga.; and George H. Lanier, West Point, Georgia.

MEETINGS TO DISCUSS ACREAGE REDUCTION

J. J. Brown, state commissioner of agriculture, has been invited to attend a conference of reduction of the cotton acreage in 1926, called by George B. Terrell, Texas agricultural commissioner, and to be held in Austin, Texas, on January 23, it was stated Monday.

In his communication, Mr. Terrell declares that present plans of Texas cotton growers indicate a six million bale crop for that state this year. This size crop, he says, would be harmful to the price of cotton and he is hopeful that a constructive program of diversification of crops can be worked out at the Austin meeting.

Another conference with a reduction in cotton acreage as its chief aim has been called to be held in

Hot Fight Seen For Presidency Of School Board

The hottest fight of years over election of a president of a board of education in Atlanta was in prospect late Monday at the 1926 board's organization meeting this afternoon, with indications pointing to nomination of at least six board members. A majority vote is necessary for election.

Those who were declared in board of education circles as certain of nomination are Dr. R. M. Eubanks, of the fourth ward; Oscar Mills, of the ninth; D. M. Terrell, of the seventh; W. W. Gaines, of the third; Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, of the eleventh, and Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, of the sixth. The 1926 school budget as compiled by R. K. Ritchie, first assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs, is to be submitted. As the document is said to be voluminous, it is not believed that the board will make any attempt to take final action until a later date.

Three new members are included in the 1926 board's personnel. W. D. Hoffman newly-elected president of the chamber of commerce, succeeds John T. Hancock, of the eighth, and former president of the board, who declined to offer for reelection; James W. Maddox will succeed Emory Brooks as fifth ward representative, while Mrs. A. E. Wilson will succeed Mrs. Kate Green Hess, twelfth ward representative.

MEET TO PLAN SHOW OF LOCAL PRODUCTS

Leading manufacturers of Atlanta will hold a meeting Thursday noon at the Chamber of Commerce building to discuss plans for a Made-in-Atlanta exposition, similar to the one held last year. Tentative plans are to make the exposition this year larger and include, not only products of Atlanta manufacturers, but also the machinery of plants in action. Invitations have been given to 15 leading manufacturers to attend the Thursday meeting.

ATLANTAN PROMOTED BY SHIP COMPANIES

Promotion of Hugh B. Wright, assistant general freight agent of the Atlanta office of the Clyde Steamship company and the Mallory Steamship company to general freight agent of the New York office was announced Monday by company officials. He will succeed H. E. Maynard, who retired because of ill-health. The positions of assistant freight traffic manager in New York and assistant and general freight agent in Atlanta have been discontinued.

at 9 tonight take KLOK-LAX for constipation

Removal Notice
Jno. L. Moore & Sons
MASTER OPTICIANS
Announce Their New Location
118 Peachtree St.
Piedmont Hotel Building

through a sunny, scenic wonderland on your Santa Fe way to California

the Riviera in U.S.A.

Snow-capped mountains fringe a summer sea—

Thousands of miles of paved motor roads—

Great resort hotels and modest inns—or you can rent a rose-garden bungalow—

The Santa Fe is the peerless way with Fred Harvey meals "all the way."

Through Santa Fe Pullmans from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and New Orleans.

For reservations and details

J. S. Rose, Gen. Agt., Santa Fe Ry., 1515 Euclid Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Phone: Walnut 3432

WATCH! TOMORROW'S PAPER

ANNOUNCING

L. C. ADLER'S

REDUCTION

SALE

and

Furnishings

A Store-wide Event of Utmost Importance to every man in and around Atlanta.

Extremely Deep REDUCTIONS

Will Prevail

L. C. ADLER
113 PEACHTREE STREET

--- SMASHED ---
--- TODAY ---

SPECIAL

Ladies' French Trimmed

Gingham Dresses

Made of Bates, Kalburnie and Security Gingham. Here is a real one. $1.15

$1.25 value 81x90-inch handmade, good heavy weight

Sheets. Only a few 89c

81x90-in. $3.50 value striped crinkle Spreads. Fast colors, gold, blue, 1.67

Men's Heavy Blue Cheviot

Work Shirts

Triple-stitched, 2 pockets,

buttons. Worth 59c

1.00

CLOSE-OUT

SALE

Wholesale Stock

HOSCH BROS.

Formerly

Ragan-Malone

Company

Selling at RETAIL

for LESS THAN

WHOLESALE

PRICES

SPECIAL

One Lot of

Corsets and Brassieres

Values to $1.50. Almost a give-away at such a low price.

Today, while 19c

they last

Remnants

One table consisting of remnants of all materials. Priced almost for a song.

Several Dozen

Silk and Rayon Mixture Ready-Made

Dresses

Worth from $9 to $10 and in all sizes; beautiful styles.

Special priced $3.29

at

75c Men's All-Wool Knit

Gloves 29c

50c Boys' All-Wool Knit

Gloves 22c

75c Boys' All-Wool Dress

Caps 39c

$1.50 Value Men's Madras

and Percal Dress Shirts 69c

59c 36-inch Fast Color Indian

Head Suits 25c

85c 36-inch Striped Broadcloth

(fast color) 39c

35c 36-inch Mercerized Check-

ered Lingerie 19c

59c 36-inch Voile Florida

Drawn Thread 20c

75c Men's All-Wool Knit

Gloves 29c

50c Boys' All-Wool Knit

Gloves 22c

75c Boys' All-Wool Dress

Caps 39c

$1.50 Value Men's Madras

and Percal Dress Shirts 69c

59c 36-inch Fast Color Indian

Head Suits 25c

85c 36-inch Striped Broadcloth

(fast color) 39c

35c 36-inch Mercerized Check-

ered Lingerie 19c

59c 36-inch Voile Florida

Drawn Thread 20c

HOSCH BROS. CO.

FORMERLY

RAGAN-MALONE CO.

32-34 South Pryor Street

Between Alabama and Hunter Sts.

BROMO- ASPIRIN

If you have a bad cold or headache, here is some good news to chase away your pains. Taylor's Bromo-Aspirin, obtained at all good drug stores, will give sure relief safely and quickly. Eases away neuralgia, rheumatism, headache, and similar pains almost immediately.

The kind that does not depress the stomach

CONVENIENT BOX OF 15 TABLETS
FOR 25¢

Farmers Descend on Capital To Force Genuine Showdown Upon Agricultural Relief

Lowden Wants Done for Farmer What Federal Reserve System Has Done for Bankers.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Washington, January 11.—From almost every quarter of the country, but principally from the west and south, farmers and farm organizations are gathering in Washington today, intent upon requiring the administration and congress to fish or cut bait on the question of farm relief.

Every train brought dozens of representatives of agricultural cooperative organizations for the National Conference of Cooperatives which opens tomorrow. At the same time came former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, potential corn and wheat belt candidate for the republican nomination for president in 1928.

Unit on Coop. Plan.

It presently transpired that there is virtual unanimity of support among these delegates for the administration bill providing for machinery for the perfection of cooperative marketing. And at a meeting of the house agriculture committee to hear arguments on the bill, so little opposition developed that the measure is scheduled to be favorably reported for passage with

JEFF DAVIS CALLS FOR BOND ELECTION

Hazlehurst, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—It was announced today by Dr. Dodge that an election for permanent bonds would be called for February 17 next.

It is bonds carry this election. $100,000 of Jeff Davis county road bonds will be issued and matched with $300,000 of state and federal money, for the building of an 18-mile stretch of road from the Telfair county line to Hazlehurst, and thence to the Bacon county line.

There seems to be little doubt that this election will be carried over overwhelmingly by the citizens of Jeff Davis county, as well as in other counties in this section, feel the need of permanent roads more than

NEGRO GIRL SLAIN AND BODY TOSSED INTO LAKE CREEK

The body of an unidentified negro girl, about 18 years old, was found late Monday afternoon in a creek which runs through the Piedmont park by four children who were at play. The girl apparently had been murdered before her body was thrown into the stream, as several deep incisions were found on her forehead and her face had been badly beaten.

A coil of rope was tied around her neck and her hands were fastened in front of her body. The body was imbedded in the mud of the creek. The children who made the discovery were Elizabeth Williams and her brother, Russell, and Frances and Nathan Napier, all of 273 Juniper street. They notified Patrolman Sol Mehan, on duty in the park, and he immediately called police headquarters.

AMERICANS OFFER LOAN FOR POLISH TOBACCO MONOPOLY

Warsaw, Poland, January 11.—(AP.) A representative of the Bankers' Trust company, of New York, and a representative of the American Tobacco company are expected to reach the Polish capital Wednesday to negotiate a loan to the Polish government in exchange for a lease of the Polish tobacco monopoly.

Recent cable advices from Warsaw to the American Polish chamber of commerce stated the Polish minister of finance had signed a preliminary agreement with the Bankers' Trust company regarding the leasing of the tobacco monopoly.

The Polish diet already has authorized the government to conclude such a deal. The tobacco monopoly is said to have an annual revenue of $32,000,000.

2,000,000 MARRIED WOMEN WORKING IN UNITED STATES

Washington, January 11.—(Nearly twice as many married women are now employed in manufacturing and mechanical industries as there were ten years ago, Miss Mary Anderson, chief of the United States Women's bureau, has announced.

The number of women thus employed, Miss Anderson said, has increased 88 per cent in the last decade. There are now 2,000,000 married women working in America, she said.

Miss Anderson announced that the problems of married women who work to support families would be a chief topic for discussion at the women's industrial conference to be held here January 18 to 21.

Trend of Prosperity Toward South, Says Newton at Elberton

Elberton, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Declaring that the south must provide the spiritual leadership which will translate the material prosperity that is surely coming to this section, into abiding values, Dr. D. D. Newton, of Atlanta, editor of the Christian Index and the City Builder, organ of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker here tonight at a brilliant dinner given by the Elberton Chamber of Commerce, celebrating its annual election of officers.

"The trend of business," said Dr. Newton, "to the south means that we are not only to become the center of world commerce and industry, but that we must provide the spiritual leadership which will translate this material prosperity into abiding values."

"We must think of our ultimate resources, not in terms of bit and stone, land and machinery, but in the boys and girls around our firesides, who must either direct our prosperity or be crushed by it."

The address was enthusiastically received by the 300 guests, who attended from Atlanta, Athens, Hartwell and Abbeville and Anderson, S. C. Milton W. Bell, cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, also talked.

Election of officers for 1926 was held tonight. Z. C. Hayes being chosen as the next president.

AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN ILL WITH INFLUENZA

Rapallo, Italy, January 11.—(AP.)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, is suffering from influenza and high fever, and has had to postpone his departure for London which was set for today. He has been spending his Christmas vacation here.

able effort to induce our business men to observe a half holiday during the week of the Sabbath. It is the point against which we are going to have to guard ourselves just now. What the people would like to see is a Sunday which would give every man an unlimited opportunity for such an experience as would really make him better for having had the day. This is what Jesus had as mind when he said the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. If you men who are leaders in civic affairs can work out a plan which will mean actual recreation for our people, we will be the good hand of the day in which Moses lived.

The response to these resolutions of Dr. Dodge was in the nature of a general hot speech in which it was declared that the teaching of Jesus Christ was identical with that of Moses, and that all of this legislation applied as much to the conditions of the present day as it did to the day in which Moses lived.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

Very truly yours, FRANK B. SAUNDERS, Post Commander, Argonne Post No. 1, American Legion, Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. D. D. McGeehan in his letter to Mr. Hoffman declared: "I have been greatly interested in the statement in the papers recently about your advocacy of more open Sunday in Atlanta. Strictly speaking, I am not in Atlanta. I am in Georgia, and I am intensely interested in all that concerns the morals of this great state. I have one right to express an opinion in these matters which concern me all so vitally."

There are two classes of people interested in this Sunday question against whom I take an unhesitating stand. First of all, there are those who believe in what is known as the Puritanical Sabbath. They believe that the day should be spent in a funeral sort of way, and they are opposed even to the laughter of little children during these particular 24 hours. I think this class is growing beautifully less. The other class against whom I stand are those who are either consciously or unconsciously working to destroy the day of rest and Sunday. They are the people who are men who are simply greedy for commercial gain, and who care nothing about the actual betterment of mankind. I am always afraid when I hear a man advocating anything which means seven days work in every week for another human being. This is the point against which you are going to have to guard yourself just now.

What the people would like to see is a Sunday which would give every man an unlimited opportunity for such an experience as would really make him better for having had the day. This is what Jesus had as mind when he said the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. If you men who are leaders in civic affairs can work out a plan which will mean actual recreation for our people, we will be the good hand of the day in which Moses lived.

The response to these resolutions of Dr. Dodge was in the nature of a general hot speech in which it was declared that the teaching of Jesus Christ was identical with that of Moses, and that all of this legislation applied as much to the conditions of the present day as it did to the day in which Moses lived.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

The letter to Mr. Hoffman from Frank B. Saunders is as follows: My dear Mr. Hoffman: I take pleasure in informing you that at the regular meeting of the Baptist Ministers' association, Atlanta, Georgia, department of Georgia, which took place on Friday night, January 8, a resolution was passed unanimously endorsing the sentiments expressed by you before the recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Atlanta and South Georgia, which was to the effect that Sunday simply means that at last there will be a day when we can all rest and enjoy the pleasures which are now confined to a very small per cent of our people.

When the vote was taken, four of the ministers voted for the amendment of Dr. Dodge and the balance of the body against them. Dr. Dodge requested that a record of this vote be kept.

Plan To Produce American Rubber Presented Today

New York, January 11.—(AP.)—A detailed plan for production under American control of the bulk of the crude rubber needed by the United States will be considered tomorrow by the board of directors of the Rubber Association of America.

The subject was broached today at the regular meeting of the board and, after extended discussion, was put over until the next session, when proponents of the program were to be prepared to submit fairly comprehensive data on area, scope and cost of the undertaking.

While none of those participating would comment tonight, it was learned that Sumatra and the Philippines, among other sites, were under consideration for plantations. There was no disposition at the meeting to see in the plan any hope for alleviation of the present rubber price levels, since several years would be required to bring the plantings to maturity, but rather as a future protection against foreign monopolistic control of an essential raw material.

The Christian ministers adopted the following resolution: Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That in view of this unfortunate and hurtful movement indicating a need of a gracious outpouring of the Holy Spirit, we call upon our members to join heartily in Religious Emphasis week, and to pray and labor for a great revival of religion.

Resolved, That the Christian (Disciple) ministers of Atlanta, Georgia, solemnly oppose any change in the existing laws regarding the observance of Sunday which would tend to a commercialized and secularized Sunday.

Resolved, That we call upon all our members to join in this protest and to give themselves more resolutely to the prayer and labor for a great revival of religion.

L. A. MAGRAW HEADS UTILITIES COMMITTEE

L. A. Magraw, of the Central Georgia Power company, was re-elected chairman of the Utilities Information committee at the annual meeting and election of officers held Monday in the offices in the Haas-Howell building.

Willard Cope was re-elected vice chairman and executive secretary and Chairman Cope chairman of the speakers' bureau. J. Prince Webster was named secretary.

Plans for extending the campaign to bring to Georgia more new industries were discussed and it was decided to bring into use all facilities towards this end. It also was decided to send a fine exhibit Georgia products to the Southern Exposition in New York this year.

The committee has been active during the past year in interesting industries in the possibilities in Georgia and the committee voted approval of the work accomplished during the past year under Executive Secretary Cope.

The meeting was attended by representatives from practically all of the larger utilities companies of the state, Atlanta, Macon, Augusta, Savannah, Columbus, Albany and other Georgia cities were represented.

PLANT EXPLOSION AT PENSACOLA HELD TO BE UNAVOIDABLE

Pensacola, Fla., January 11.—(AP.)—The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

The explosion at the plant of the Newport Tar and Turpentine company, January 2, which resulted in the fatal injuries to 16 men employed at the plant, was an "unavoidable accident" from unknown causes, a coroner's jury found late today.

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the

Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the

Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the

Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the

Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the

Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten

A warrant charging robbery was issued today against Lionel W. Hearst, $100-a-month police chief of Desoto, after he had confessed in writing that he had advance information of plans mg

Hearst admitted he furnished a rifle to the robbers, but denied he shared in the $10,648 loot.

#f

hes

MONEY

“so-called ed around g” we have 11. 11. 11.

able Kibler smart style round low 6:
est Hand-Tailored and Overcoats

7.50 $ 40
to Peachtree St. Store
$22.50

CHTREE ST.
Poplar

What Becomes

Work

individual or any other concern.
Mystery about transportation.
... they must be expressed in the business of supplying from place to place. A individual who receives $5.00

of material and supplies.
r fuel.

pay interest charges and leaving 19 days out of the Payrolls consume nearly the next largest item.

ement and enlargement of the Central of Georgia, a to keep pace with business borrow money and to issue accounts for the fact that 54 were the largest in the his-tend them economically and ood will of the public, and d by safety, courtesy and

S,
Georgia Railway Company.

Bad Highway Conditions Reported Over Georgia Being Severely Criticized

Roads in Practically All Sections of State Reported in Well-Nigh Impassable Condition.

BY RALPH T. JONES.

Reports received Monday from various sections of Georgia showed little relief from mire and mud which has entangled scores of automobiles in its sticky clasp and which has made Georgia highways a byword for impassable roads in every section of the country.

From only one point was an encouraging report received Monday. A telegram from Manchester stated that Route 51, by way of Newnan to Americus, passing through Manchester, was open for travel and in good condition.

From Macon, however, came stories of hotels filled with tourists from north and south who had given up the hopeless struggle against mud, through detours across the state, and were waiting either for roads to dry out sufficiently to be again navigable or preparing to abandon their cars and complete journeys by train.

Sleep in Automobile.
According to reports in a Macon newspaper Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Emson, of Highpoint, N. Y., were forced to sleep in their car, without food, water or heat, all Friday night. They had taken the detour just out of Gray, Ga., shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

"There was a big truck just in front of us that was stuck," Mr. Emson is

If Lew Adler Says It's

"O. K."

It is 666 is a prescription for

Colds, Grippe, Flu, Dengue,

Bilious Fever and Malaria.

It kills the germs.

At the first sign of skin trouble apply

Resinol

Delay in the proper treatment of skin troubles is dangerous. Every day spent in trying unproved remedies may only let the disorder spread.

The value of Resinol Ointment is known. For thirty years it has been used as a soothing, healing remedy for the skin. If applied in time, it usually reduces the eruption promptly, but even in stubborn, long-standing cases it is surprising how quickly this gentle, yet effective ointment brings the desired results. At all druggists.

$100 Reward for a box worth 60c!

He was 4,000 miles from home, in a land where cooks tried everything, and all his Stuart's tablets in a trunk they couldn't find! "I'll give almost anything to get it," he told me, "for I can eat anything in the world if I take a tablet afterward."

Chew a Stuart tablet after the heartiest meal, and you, too, can smile at indigestion. Stop all gas and belching. Relief is instantaneous. In fact, heavy eaters—hard smokers—high livered—find these tablets a boon and blessing. Here's proof:

Full Box FREE!
Every druggist has Stuart's tablets, 25c and 60c. Or, a full box free if you write the F. A. Stuart Company, Dept. W. C. Mahan, Mich. Get a meta box of Stuart's for the pocket—and keep it filled!

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Solid Silver Flatware

Our large stock of the newest patterns in Solid Silver flatware will enable you to select a pattern in harmony with the furnishings of your home.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.

31 Whitehall St. Established 38 Years

Bell Believes Income, Surtax Bills Will Pass

Belief that the senate will pass the income tax with surtax provisions passed recently by congress and providing big reductions in both classes, was expressed here Monday by Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of the ninth Georgia district, veteran member of the lower house and prominent in democratic party circles.

Mr. Bell's home is at Gainesville. He was in Atlanta on a brief business mission, expecting to return the middle of the week to resume his new duties in Washington. He spent several hours in the city Monday.

Mr. Bell stated that congress organized and got under smooth running order in record time; that members of both parties have utmost confidence in the new speaker, Representative Longworth, and the Georgia member stated that Speaker Longworth was a fair and square man and would give the democrats justice. Mr. Bell believes that adjournment will be possible by July and does not think there will be a recess in session through the summer.

Minor Modifications.
"Without more than minor modifications," Mr. Bell said, "I think the senate will accept the income tax and surtax measures passed by congress. Reductions in these taxes will mean a great deal to the country."

Congressman Bell has served the ninth Georgia district in congress for 20 years and is reporting entering his 11th term. He is regarded as one of the most forceful men in the democratic party and during the early days of the war was the democratic whip in the lower house. He was forced to resign this post, however, because of demands upon his time made by postal problems, he being a member and ranking democrat of the house postoffice committee. He also was a member of the special joint committee which toured the country a few months ago studying the effect of changes in postal rates and regulations.

Few members of congress are as well known and as favorably regarded as the veteran north Georgia member. He is generally accepted as a leader among southern delegations in congress, and his advice is eagerly sought after, especially by new members of the democratic party in congress.

Originator of Road Bill.
Not many Georgians are aware that Congressman Bell was the first man to introduce a bill in congress providing for use of federal funds for road-building. His measure was introduced in the lower house in 1906 and was used as the nucleus of the bill which later passed providing for setting aside $75,000,000 for state road-building programs. Representative Shafteford, of Missouri, generally given credit for fathering the federal fund road building idea, came to Mr. Bell for a copy of his old bill in framing the measure which finally passed. This measure was followed some time later by amendments by Bankhead, of Alabama, providing for $200,000,000 expenditures from the federal treasury in state highway construction programs.

Mr. Bell now is pushing plans for a great national park to cover a wide area in northeast Georgia and western North Carolina. He states that the measure has splendid chance of passing this session of congress. He also is negotiating additional federal funds for Georgia roads.

The popular ninth district congressman also stated while here Monday that democrats are confident of electing enough members to control the next senate and that party leaders are working enthusiastically to this end.

LAST HONORS PAID TO JOEL HURT, SR.; RESTS IN OAKLAND

Funeral services for Joel Hurt, Sr., 75, a pioneer city builder of Atlanta, were held Monday afternoon at the residence. The Rev. James B. Ficklen, assisted by the Rev. A. E. Driggers, officiated. Burial was in Oakland cemetery.

Pallbearers and the honorary escort were composed of prominent business men and civic leaders.

Among other achievements, Mr. Hurt founded the first electric street railway in Atlanta, and was responsible for erection of the Hurt building and the Trust Company of Georgia building.

EXCAVATION BEGINS FOR GREAT PLANT OF SEARS-ROEBUCK

Excavation for the Sears-Roebuck plant on Ponce de Leon avenue was begun Monday by a large force of workers with two steam shovels. The Nichols Contracting company, of Atlanta, has charge of the work.

The construction work will be done by the R. and W. Construction company, of Chicago, and it is expected the plant will be ready for occupancy by next fall. Secretary F. M. Noland, of the Atlanta Builders' exchange, announced Monday that he is expecting plans for the plant from Chicago soon.

YOUNG WOMEN PLAN FOR ANNUAL DINNER

The Young Woman's Christian association announces that its annual dinner will be held at the Atlanta Woman's club, Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock, with Mrs. W. R. Prescott, president, presiding. Mell R. Wilkinson, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. board of trustees, will be principal speaker on "The Place of the Y. W. C. A. in the Community" and the "Glee and Mandolin clubs will supply the music."

A unique feature of the program will be a series of living pictures in which groups of girls will portray the story of the work of the association during the past year. Miss Mildred Wells, member of the Y. group of young business girls, will tell the story of the work, and as she talks groups of girls will appear on the stage to illustrate. No formal reports will be made.

Reservations for the annual dinner may be made at Y headquarters, 21 West Baker street.

C. A. HIGBY NOW HEADS EVANGELISTIC BODY

At the meeting of the Atlanta Interdenominational Evangelistic association at the Third Baptist church Sunday afternoon, new officers were elected as follows: C. A. Higby, president; W. W. Nails, vice president; J. A. Brooks, secretary; and Lovie C. Lean, treasurer. M. C. Morris was named as campaign manager.

General evangelistic work in various sections of Atlanta during the spring and summer will be conducted by the organization. Tent services will be the main feature.

The association will meet next Sunday at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at 3:30 p. m.

WOMAN POLICEMAN IS BADLY INJURED

Struck down Monday by a truck driven by Will Glass, negro, of 98 Whitehall terrace, at Piedmont and Decatur streets. Mrs. J. C. Davis, head of the women's bureau of the police department, is in a serious condition at Grady hospital, with a probable fracture of the skull and other injuries. Glass is being held without bond pending the outcome of Mrs. Davis' injuries.

When run down Mrs. Davis was crossing Piedmont avenue, near Decatur street, en route to the police station. The truck which Glass was driving belonged to the Southern Bonded Warehouse company.

Mrs. J. L. Culver, of Campbellton road, also was carried to Grady with a dislocated knee and possible internal injuries as the result of being knocked to the pavement as she alighted Monday morning from the automobile of her son, Sergeant Oscar Culver, by a car driven by a man who said his name was Z. L. Murdock, an employee of an oil company on Murphy avenue, according to hospital records.

Sergeant Culver, who is in charge of the rifle range at Fort McPherson, Ga., had stopped his machine at Forsyth and Garnett streets to allow his mother to get out, when the accident happened. After striking Mrs. Culver, her son said, Murdock drove on for about a block before he returned and carried her to her home. Police were seeking Murdock Monday afternoon, Sergeant Culver asking that a charge of reckless driving be preferred against him.

TWO POISON CASES TREATED AT GRADY

Suspected of having swallowed a quantity of lye, Annie Claire Johnson, 18 months old, of 32 Richardson street, was treated at Grady hospital Monday.

Another child, Ruby Kirsey, 2, of 62 Ponders avenue, was treated Monday after she had been burned with a hot poker about the legs while she played around the fire at her home.

After swallowing poison in what physicians believe was an attempt at suicide, G. E. Fuller, 30, of 165 Bryan street, was treated at Grady Sunday. He is said to have been despondent. After treatment he was allowed to go home.

Three fires from oil stoves were reported, causing Fire Chief W. B. Cody to issue a warning against careless use of such devices. Twelve alarms, in all, were reported over the week-end, two of them being false alarms.

DIXIE COACHES
To West Point, LaGrange
DAILY 7 A.M.—12 Noon—3 P.M.
FROM ST. N. FORTSTH ST.
WALNUT 3500

WILSON STAMP SELLS RAPIDLY IN SAVANNAH
Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Savannah, among the first

cities in America to place orders for the new Woodrow Wilson 17-cent stamp, has received 20,000 of them, and in the first day a large portion of that number was called for and delivered.

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY DURING WEEK-END ANSWERING ALARMS

Cold weather and accidents were the cause of a number of fires over the week-end, according to fire department records.

An oil heater exploded in a shoe shine parlor, 34 Marietta street, Monday, flames bursting from the establishment, and for a time threatening the building. Firemen, however, soon extinguished the blaze and confined the loss to about 20 hats, which had been left for cleaning and blocking.

Three fires from oil stoves were reported, causing Fire Chief W. B. Cody to issue a warning against careless use of such devices. Twelve alarms, in all, were reported over the week-end, two of them being false alarms.

On Murphy avenue, according to hospital records.

Sergeant Culver, who is in charge of the rifle range at Fort McPherson, Ga., had stopped his machine at Forsyth and Garnett streets to allow his mother to get out, when the accident happened. After striking Mrs. Culver, her son said, Murdock drove on for about a block before he returned and carried her to her home. Police were seeking Murdock Monday afternoon, Sergeant Culver asking that a charge of reckless driving be preferred against him.

DIXIE COACHES
To West Point, LaGrange
DAILY 7 A.M.—12 Noon—3 P.M.
FROM ST. N. FORTSTH ST.
WALNUT 3500

WILSON STAMP SELLS RAPIDLY IN SAVANNAH
Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Savannah, among the first

cities in America to place orders for the new Woodrow Wilson 17-cent stamp, has received 20,000 of them, and in the first day a large portion of that number was called for and delivered.

DETROIT-LEVELAND REACHED

CONVENIENTLY

BY OUR THREE DAILY TRAINS

LEAVE ATLANTA—UNION STATION

The Southland Number 34 The Flamingo

7:25 AM 4:25 PM 9:00 PM

Through and Connecting Pullman Service. Coaches.

EXCELLENT DINING CAR SERVICE.

CITY TICKET OFFICE—46 NO. BROAD STREET

Information and Reservations, Walnut 1400

F. T. ALEXANDER, D. P. A., 101 Marietta St.

L&N

never Before, never Again Such Values!

in a Lifetime

SALE

IVY 0840 Broadcasting

MR. TIRE BARGAINS ANNOUNCING

STUDIO AT NO. 321 SPRING STREET

TUNE IN ON THESE PRICES

"NO STATIC" GUARANTEED

Complete Range of Sizes

We have some of each of the following makes, mostly taken in exchange for LEES:

Goodyear Firestone Kelly Goodrich Fisk

Federal Republic Miller Etc.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

DETROIT-LEVELAND REACHED

CONVENIENTLY

BY OUR THREE DAILY TRAINS

LEAVE ATLANTA—UNION STATION

The Southland Number 34 The Flamingo

7:25 AM 4:25 PM 9:00 PM

Through and Connecting Pullman Service. Coaches.

EXCELLENT DINING CAR SERVICE.

CITY TICKET OFFICE—46 NO. BROAD STREET

Information and Reservations, Walnut 1400

F. T. ALEXANDER, D. P. A., 101 Marietta St.

L&N

never Before, never Again Such Values!

in a Lifetime

SALE

IVY 0840 Broadcasting

MR. TIRE BARGAINS ANNOUNCING

STUDIO AT NO. 321 SPRING STREET

TUNE IN ON THESE PRICES

"NO STATIC" GUARANTEED

Complete Range of Sizes

We have some of each of the following makes, mostly taken in exchange for LEES:

Goodyear Firestone Kelly Goodrich Fisk

Federal Republic Miller Etc.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

Table with tire specifications and prices.

RUDOLPH DISSE DECLARED SANE

Richmond, Va., January 11.—(AP)—Rudolph Disse, 20 years old, triple sleeper, sane, the state board of health reported to Governor E. Lee Trinkle today. The board held that the youth is mentally normal. He is under sentence to die in the electric chair on February 19.

The members of the board voted by separate ballots and their verdict that the youth who shot and killed his sweetheart, his rival, and a police detective and seriously wounded an automobile salesman here on July 28, last, was mentally responsible for his acts was unanimous. The governor declared he would take no action in the case.

Disse is under sentence to death for the murder of Henry Grady Carter, restaurant owner, whom he shot to death in his restaurant during the moon day rush after a mad dash across town in an automobile after fatally wounding Mrs. Vivian Tomlin Peers, pretty clothing model, and Detective J. Harvey Burke, and seriously wounding Willis Britt, automobile salesman. The youth declared he killed the girl and Carter because he "couldn't keep her and wasn't going to let anyone else get her." He killed Burke and shot Britt, he declared, because they stood in the way of his reaching Carter, after he had shot the girl.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR URGES INCOME TAX

Frankfort, Ky., January 11.—(AP)—Governor William J. Fields, today recommended to the general assembly a state income tax equal to one-half of the income tax paid to the federal government. The tax would supply additional revenue for the state's educational, charitable and corrective institutions.

Asking the legislators for this additional revenue "so sorely needed," the governor urged that they not "saddle it upon the back of agriculture or impose it upon the shoulders of labor."

In a special message, he referred to opposition that has arisen to his proposed tax on tobacco products and an increase of two cents a gallon in gasoline tax, made in his biennial message last week, and gave this as his reason for asking for the income tax.

ATLANTA THEATRE 2 Days—Fri. & Sat. Jan. 15-16 EATON'S SATURDAY Earl Carroll's Sensational Success

WHITE CARGO

PRONOUNCED BY CRITICS EVERYWHERE
THE GREATEST PLAY
OF THE AGE. SUPERB
CAST OF PLAYERS.

Prices: All Performances, 50c to $2.00
Mail Orders NOW—Seats Tomorrow

LOEW'S GRAND THEATRE CONTINUOUS—1 TO 11 P. M. VAUDEVILLE, 3:30-6:30-9 P. M. LEWIS & DODDY

—in—
"THE WINDOW CLEANERS"
—and—
"THE OTHER LOEW ACTS" Photographed by the Famous ELINOR GLYN'S
"THE ONLY THING"

A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture
After 15-25 Nights, 10c-50c-30c

KEITH'S FORSYTH 3 DAYS MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY MAYNARD, 236-334 Haynes, Lehmann & Kaiser The Three Little Playmates

JERRY O'NEALA & CO.
In "Beach Nut" GINTARO
The Original Trio
Pathe News and Asnap's Famous Pictures

Pictures of Alabama-Washington game now at Forsyth Theatre.

IT TAKES A GREAT PICTURE TO DO WHAT THIS PICTURE WILL DO TO YOU—

And by "Great" we mean Great in Theme, Great in Acting, Great in Direction, Great in the Manner in Which Its Tremendously Forceful Story Has Been so Beautifully Developed.

"His People"

—with—
Rudolph Schildkraut

AND A NOTABLE CAST
"THE ADVENTURES OF MAZIE"

11-12-13-14-15-16-17-18-19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30-31

AUDITORIUM Thursday Night PAUL WHITEMAN AND HIS ORCHESTRA

SEATS 50c to $2—Plus Tax.
On Sale now at Phillips & Crew Co.

Tampa Health Chief's Position Safe, Is Belief

Tampa, Fla., January 11.—(AP)—Dr. E. C. Levy's dismissal as health officer of Tampa will not be demanded by James McCants, city commissioner, at tomorrow's meeting of the board of commissioners, according to a statement today by Mr. McCants. He was quoted as saying yesterday he would demand the health officer's resignation because he failed to suppress news concerning smallpox cases here.

Mr. McCants today reiterated his displeasure with work of the city health department under Dr. Levy and with his methods. He admitted informing newspapermen that he had taken steps to remove Dr. Levy from his position on Tuesday, but said he did not want any publicity in advance.

"I don't demand the resignation of city officials," Mr. McCants said. "As a city commissioner, I am not judging with the work of Dr. Levy. Pleading from results, he is a theorist, and performs his duties in the line of time with spread-eagle stories over conditions that can only be remedied by actual work."

"I think the time used in criticizing civic organizations or resolutions passed by them on the smallpox situation could have been used to a greater advantage in the health officer in removing danger of contact with suspects," the commissioner stated.

Mr. McCants was referring to Dr. Levy's statement that he had been at the Kiwanis club of Tampa last week as not being in favor of giving the smallpox cases "free publicity." The health officer said it was a regrettable step by a body which evidently misunderstood the situation. The health officer regarded publicity as his greatest weapon in combating the disease.

Dr. Levy, who is nationally known as a municipal health authority and former president of the American Medical Association, said today: "I'm too busy with other things to say anything about this," referring to Mr. McCants' statement.

W. A. Adams, another commissioner supported Dr. Levy, saying the health officer was "handling the smallpox outbreak in a capable manner." He said some members of the commission were silent.

Vaccination of approximately 20,000 school children started here today under the supervision of Dr. Levy. Many private physicians have volunteered their services and a corps of doctors and nurses was stationed at each school building.

The total number of cases today stood at 43. Four new cases were reported over the weekend.

Dr. Levy is appearing in every person in Tampa be vaccinated in order to prevent the spread of the disease into an epidemic is being met with the aid of thousands of persons have reported to clinics for vaccination and treatment from physicians since the outbreak of the disease during the latter part of December. No deaths from smallpox have been reported.

MAN POWER LOSS CRIPPLING BRITAIN, BALDWIN DECLARES

London, January 11.—(AP)—Grave warning of the danger arising from the loss of many of the best British men in war was uttered today by Premier Stanley Baldwin in his presidential address to the meeting of the House of Commons. He declared that the loss of man power was the greatest danger facing Britain today, and that the government was doing its utmost to meet the situation.

Change in Japanese Current Affecting Fishing in Alaska

Seattle, Wash., January 11.—(AP)—The Japanese current, which is believed to have strayed from its course since an earthquake in Japan in 1923, taking its warmth to new waters, is forcing fish to migrate to new haunts, declared A. H. Southgate, herring fleet operator of Douglas, Alaska, here today on a visit.

Mr. Southgate said the current generally believed among Alaskans to be the cause of a change in the direction of the Japanese current. Southgate said: "Habit of fish have changed and climate conditions have altered. This winter for the first time since 1902 there hasn't been any snow. Days are sunny with the temperature ranging from 45 to 50 degrees."

"OK" Lew Adler

Mr. Adler is the "womanhandled man" who tries to make over the world—and himself—to please romantic "Mollie." Esther Ralston, beautiful blonde, is admirably fitted to play the part of the society girl who will wed no one but a "man's man" from the great open spaces of the old west.

The trials of "Bill Man" in becoming that man, though, though "man" are many and therein lie the laughs.

Lora Marie Harrington's "Gypsy Wayfarers" present some of the most clever dancing in the prologue and Lora's orchestra is even better than usual in its rendition of "Fortune Teller."

"Outstanding among the other features of the bill are hunting pictures taken in South Georgia by Tracy Mathewson, Constitution photographs, and presented with other sport pictures in a Grandstand Rice production."

A Pathé comedy and News Reel complete the program.

DICK HAWKINS
LEWIS AND DODDY
CAPTURE HONORS
AT LOEW'S GRAND

Bringing their famous comedy song "Hello, Hello, Hello," two comedians, Lewis and Doddy, captured first honors on the new bill of vaudeville when they opened at Loew's Grand Monday and Tuesday nights.

The new bill served also to introduce to Atlanta a group of real musicians who staged a most artistic musical revue. This was the Margie

MAIL SACKS LOST AS PLANE CRASHES NEAR NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, January 11.—(AP)—Ten of 11 sacks of mail carried on a mail plane of the New Orleans, Air Line, crashed into the Gulf of Mexico Saturday afternoon, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Reports to the postoffice said that the mail plane crashed into the Gulf of Mexico, between Buras and Pilot Town, were lost said a report issued by the New Orleans postoffice today.

The plane, in charge of Pilot A. Bonile and Henry Randall, left New Orleans at 4 o'clock Saturday morning for Buras, La., en route to Pilot Town, La., and one of the mail purses of the Parishina and the purses of the Munemur.

Prince Paul Upsets Society By Stunning Marriage Talk

Chicago, January 11.—Chicago society matrons, who had their eligible daughters all lined up waiting for the arrival of Prince Paul, of Greece, have been let down rather suddenly by the announcement that marriage is the farthest thing from the royal mind just now and that the prince didn't even bring along the usual alien appreciation about the marvelous accomplishments of American girls.

Of course, the prince has had four months of observing American girls from the house of his cousin, Mrs. William L. Lewis, the former Princess Xenia, and her husband, on Long Island. But apparently he hasn't found the western girls worthy of any more comment than the eastern ones, about whom he has never been inclined to rave.

"I might as well tell you that I do not contemplate marriage," the handsome 24-year-old heir-apparent, said in his best London drawing-room English following his introduction into society at the Elston Norris ball given in his honor.

The 190 pounds of boyish royalty is considerable of a puzzle to the girls of the west, who were able to find so much excitement in the visit here a year ago of the Prince of Wales. He has learned the Charleston, although, and admits his execution of the dance is not altogether graceful.

He wants to see all the sights, the stock yards and the other show places of the city, but his social interests are not anything like Chicago expected they would be.

The real purpose of the prince's visit was to attend a memorial service for his father, the late King Constantine, who died in exile.

"The plans we had made to move my father's body back to Athens from its present resting place in Florence, Italy, have been dropped for the present," he said.

"Indeed, as things seem to be over there now, with General Pangalos in power as dictator, I doubt if any of us, dead or alive, will ever return to my country."

The prince indicated that even if offered the throne he probably would refuse to accept.

Paul said he didn't know enough about it to discuss the romance of the crown-in-law, Prince Carol, of Rumania.

Regarding prohibition, however, his royal highness made these observations:

"Although I do not drink I believe I could get liquor as easily here in England. I have been impressed to this extent, that there seems to be all the liquor that one wants to find everywhere that one goes."

Prince Paul will spend five days here before returning to the home of his cousin in New York.

BROOKHART INVITED TO TESTIFY TODAY

Washington, January 11.—(AP)—Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, has been invited to appear tomorrow before the senate elections subcommittee investigating the Iowa senatorial contest to present his argument in person.

Although formal action has not been taken, members of the subcommittee have expressed their personal opinion that Daniel F. Steck, Brookhart's opponent, is the better qualified of the two candidates for election. Unless Senator Brookhart changes their present opinion by his argument, the subcommittee will submit a report to the full committee recommending the seating of Steck.

Wife Slayer Tosses In Jail as Funeral Of Victim Is Held

Marietta, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) While the funeral of his wife, whom he shot to death, was being interred at the cemetery at Roswell, her former home, Sunday, Luther Pritchard lay in state in the city jail, his cot here in Cobb county jail.

Pritchard, a world war veteran, emaciated by disease, it is said caused by having been shell-shocked, was charged with the death of his wife, having shot her to death Saturday morning as she approached his bed to serve his breakfast. He used a shotgun which he had concealed in the bed.

No legal steps have been taken in Pritchard's case further than to place him in jail here and place him in the city guard, he having tried three times Saturday to end his life.

The Cobb county grand jury will soon meet and it is thought probable that the case will be held over until then for action. It is also thought that the physical and mental condition of Pritchard can be better known by the time court opens.

HELEN KELLER VISITS COOLIDGE, READS HIS LIPS

Washington, January 11.—(AP)—Helen Keller, born deaf, dumb and blind, called on President Coolidge today, and carried on a brief conversation with him by reading his lips with her finger tips. She has acquired the faculty of speech since her childhood.

In Washington in the interest of a fund which is being raised for the American Foundation for the Blind, Helen Keller called on Mrs. Coolidge today, and carried on a brief conversation with her by reading his lips with her finger tips. She has acquired the faculty of speech since her childhood.

The opening number was Gordon and Gordon in "Twists and Turns," an acrobatic dancing and contortion number.

Elinor Glynn's latest picture "The Only Thing," with Eleanor Boardman and Conrad Nagel in leading roles, played.

—PAUL STEVENSON.

PATRONS PLEASED BY 'JUST SUPPOSE' AT METROPOLITAN

The long line of theatergoers which formed in front of the Metropolitan theater Monday night and waited patiently to gain admittance, found an entertainment well worth the time, trouble and price of admission.

Prince Paul Upsets Society By Stunning Marriage Talk

Chicago, January 11.—Chicago society matrons, who had their eligible daughters all lined up waiting for the arrival of Prince Paul, of Greece, have been let down rather suddenly by the announcement that marriage is the farthest thing from the royal mind just now and that the prince didn't even bring along the usual alien appreciation about the marvelous accomplishments of American girls.

Of course, the prince has had four months of observing American girls from the house of his cousin, Mrs. William L. Lewis, the former Princess Xenia, and her husband, on Long Island. But apparently he hasn't found the western girls worthy of any more comment than the eastern ones, about whom he has never been inclined to rave.

"I might as well tell you that I do not contemplate marriage," the handsome 24-year-old heir-apparent, said in his best London drawing-room English following his introduction into society at the Elston Norris ball given in his honor.

The 190 pounds of boyish royalty is considerable of a puzzle to the girls of the west, who were able to find so much excitement in the visit here a year ago of the Prince of Wales. He has learned the Charleston, although, and admits his execution of the dance is not altogether graceful.

He wants to see all the sights, the stock yards and the other show places of the city, but his social interests are not anything like Chicago expected they would be.

The real purpose of the prince's visit was to attend a memorial service for his father, the late King Constantine, who died in exile.

"The plans we had made to move my father's body back to Athens from its present resting place in Florence, Italy, have been dropped for the present," he said.

"Indeed, as things seem to be over there now, with General Pangalos in power as dictator, I doubt if any of us, dead or alive, will ever return to my country."

The prince indicated that even if offered the throne he probably would refuse to accept.

Paul said he didn't know enough about it to discuss the romance of the crown-in-law, Prince Carol, of Rumania.

Regarding prohibition, however, his royal highness made these observations:

"Although I do not drink I believe I could get liquor as easily here in England. I have been impressed to this extent, that there seems to be all the liquor that one wants to find everywhere that one goes."

Prince Paul will spend five days here before returning to the home of his cousin in New York.

OFFICER S LAYS ALLEGED BANDITS WHEN ATTACKED

Cleveland, Ohio, January 11.—(AP)—Two unidentified men, believed to be bandits, were shot to death early today when they attempted to attack Patrolman Daniel Candow, as he was questioning them in a restaurant.

The men told conflicting stories, including a claim that they were from Chicago and when Candow started to search them one man drew a revolver.

Candow knocked the man's hand and put a bullet through the man's chest.

Turning, Candow shot the second man twice. He died in a hospital after.

The first man, recovering his revolver from the floor, police say, again took aim at Candow, who shot him twice more, killing him instantly.

HONEST TIPLER URGES ARREST FOR BEING DRUNK

Miami, Fla., January 11.—(AP)—Boy, page Diogenes.

A man giving his name as Jim Black, 50, of New York city, rushed into the court here today, interrupted the proceedings, waving a crisp new $50 bill in one hand and two $20 bills in the other hand.

He was halted in front of the judge's bench and asked to explain his actions, he answered:

"I haven't been arrested yet, but I ought to be. I been drunk two days and I've got my money. Want to pay my fine."

The judge refused to take the money and dismissed this impromptu case, while prisoners and police alike laughed him out of the courtroom.

Fine Horses Winter in Macon

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.) A special carload of 15 fine horses—trotters and pacers—have arrived to begin their winter workouts under the direction of Thomas W. Murphy, dean of the Grand Circuit since the death of "Pop" Geers.

Murphy will ship two more cars of horses during the next few days. Some of these fast steppers will be brought here to the track.

Most of the horses in Sunday's shipment are yearlings, although there are a few older ones.

Thomas W. Murphy was given a special invitation by horse lovers here and by the chamber of commerce and the city council to bring his fine string of horses to winter quarters here.

A fine stable, as nearly fireproof as possible, was equipped for him at Central City park.

The track is a little muddy, but, as it is the winter season, it is as good as it can be. The city will put the mile oval in first-class condition for Murphy and his string of trainers so that workouts can start.

Five S. S. Games
Billed Tonight

The S. S. A. A. will get going on the second round tonight. When five games will be played on the Y. M. C. A. court.

At 6:10 and until 9:30 the different teams will be battling for supremacy. All the games should be even, and are sure to be hard fights.

Following is the schedule for tonight's games: (1) National, 7:30. (2) Oakhurst vs. Flooding Class (American), 7:30. (3) Grand Park vs. Confederate Avenue (Federal), 8:30.

Thirteen Days' Meet
Planned for Mobile

Mobile, Ala., January 11.—(AP)—A 13-days running race meet will be held here starting March 20, with several days of racing, according to an announcement of Secretary J. A. Robinson, of the Mobile Business Men's Racing association. The meeting will be held at the Fair Grounds track. Many horsemen now at New Orleans will be asked to come here.

LAMPRECHT, TULANE, IS GOLFER AND GRIDDER

Can a golfer make a good football player? Most coaches will tell you no, but how about Fred Lamprecht of Tulane university? He won the national intercollegiate golf tournament last year and started on the Green Wave at halfback and but for two star teammates would have been acclaimed as a national hero in Dixie.

SAMMY MARINO FELL FROM HIS LOFTY PERCH

Scotty Montie once managed a fight for the name of champion, Marino, who refused to talk. Fans used to urge him to make a speech until it was part of the evening's program to shout "Speech, Speech." One night Sammy surprised them by the following: "Ladies and people, I fight anything, my heavy; winner take me everything."

George Duncan, Famous Golfer, Coming to U. S.

According to recent advice, George Duncan, famous British professional, who held the British open title in 1920, is planning another trip to America. Duncan intends to play in the winter, bringing a suitable partner with him, and playing in all leading events of the season.

He—"What's that? You say our engagement is broken? I don't get you." She—"That's exactly"—Life.

Epworth's Play
4 Fast Games
ALBANY FIVE
BY 49-44 SCORE

The basketball fans that attended the game of the Epworth League at the Wesley Memorial court Monday night saw some of the best games of the season. All four games were played according to the schedule except the last. The boys from the County of Campbell failed to make their appearance for the third time this season. They were to play the Wesley Memorial team.

The Druid Hills girls and the St. Mark's girls' teams had a hectic time in the first game. The girls from the County of Campbell failed to make their appearance for the third time this season. They were to play the Wesley Memorial team.

The St. Mark's team was game to the last, with only five players to enter into the game. The rules call for six players but referee, Mr. Holt, waived this rule after getting the consent of the Druid Hills girls. Misses Huff and Baggett were the best of the defeated team.

Both boys' games were close and fast. The first game, in which the County of Campbell team defeated the St. John's five, 17 to 16. There was no time in the game when the score was over five points difference. In the final moments of the game the score was tied and G. Cantrell, who relieved Thurman, sank a free throw for the game.

The last game of the evening, between Park street and the Grant Park five, was as good as the preceding game. The score two minutes before the end of playing time was tied.

Park street made a spurt and went out five points in the last before it was stopped. The boys from the County of Campbell failed to make their appearance for the third time this season. They were to play the Wesley Memorial team.

The Druid Hills girls and the St. Mark's girls' teams had a hectic time in the first game. The girls from the County of Campbell failed to make their appearance for the third time this season. They were to play the Wesley Memorial team.

The St. Mark's team was game to the last, with only five players to enter into the game. The rules call for six players but referee, Mr. Holt, waived this rule after getting the consent of the Druid Hills girls. Misses Huff and Baggett were the best of the defeated team.

Both boys' games were close and fast. The first game, in which the County of Campbell team defeated the St. John's five, 17 to 16. There was no time in the game when the score was over five points difference. In the final moments of the game the score was tied and G. Cantrell, who relieved Thurman, sank a free throw for the game.

The last game of the evening, between Park street and the Grant Park five, was as good as the preceding game

MONTE CARLO

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Reg. U. S. Patent Office.

SYNOPSIS.

Sir Hargrave Wendover, country gentleman and financier, calls on a famous London physician for examination. The doctor tells him he cannot live for more than six or eight months. Wendover takes the blow standing and decides to go on with his plans for the winter as though nothing had happened. He feels, however, an urge to give a lift to some poor fellow creature. He experiments on the people he comes in contact with until he finds one who is in need of help. This proves to be a delicate-looking mackerel girl, Violet Martin, who serves him regularly. He offers her and a member of her family a vacation of two months at his villa at Monte Carlo. Not having any family, Violet induces her fiancé, Robert, to pose as her brother and come with her. Their host gives them a free rein in Monte Carlo, and they enjoy themselves to the fullest extent. Wendover's London cronies, the Rev. Philip Gorse, John Marston, his financial advisor, and Lord Pellingham arrive at Monte Carlo.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.
REVENGE!

Violet indulged in a characteristic grimace. It was attractive, that quick pursing together of the lips, the half-querulous frown.

"Robert's just the same as ever about the mornings," she declared. "I can't convert him. I love to walk; he likes to get up late, stroll 'round the place—that generally means having a drink at any and every bar that he comes across—and look in at the Casino. This morning I went up to La Turbie by the funicular and walked down."

"If you are so fond of exercise, I wonder whether you play tennis, Miss Martin?" Philip Gorse asked.

"Much too badly for this part of the world," she confessed.

"I have a sister," he protested earnestly, "who scarcely knows one end of a racquet from the other. Let us play one morning. Hargrave would be too good for us, but I daresay we could get another duffer. Pellingham's about my form."

"Nonsense!" Hargrave intervened. "I'm very little better than you, Philip. I'm tired of the strenuous game. All these competitions last too long."

"I should love to play," Violet declared, "but I'm afraid Sir Hargrave would be too good for us, unless he played with me," she added, looking across at him invitingly.

"Of course, I will," he promised. "Tomorrow morning, if you like. We can't have you wandering all over the place like this alone."

"I'm not at all sure that I mind it so much," she said. "So long as I'm out of doors and in the sunshine, I'm happy."

"Is this your first visit down here?" Gorse inquired.

"My first," she admitted. "I'm afraid every one would know that. I'm so enthusiastic. Anyhow I can't help it. I dreamed of the Riviera until I was nearly heartsick, and now I find it even more wonderful than I had imagined."

She leaned back, sipping her orangeade with an air of deep and profound content. Her head kept time slowly to the music.

"There's Johnnie coming down the steps," Hargrave pointed out. "Would you like to lunch with us, Violet?"

She shook her head regretfully.

"You will want to talk business with Mr. Marston," she reminded him. "I should only be in the way. Besides, today I must lunch at the villa. Madame Martelle has arranged with the chef for a wonderful omelet, and she asked me especially not to be late."

Marston advanced across the road, and Violet rose to her feet.

"So must I," Philip Gorse echoed. "In which direction are you going, Miss Martin?"

"I am staying at Sir Hargrave's villa," she told him.

"On my way," he lied cheerfully. "Come along."

They departed side by side, Gorse leaning deferentially toward his companion. Hargrave watched them for a moment with a smile, half-amused, half-wistful. Then he turned to his stockbroker friend, who, fresh from his tub and change of clothes, was making his way between the tables with the jaunty air of a man transplanted to pleasant places.

"This is something like, Hargrave!" he exclaimed. "My God, what weather!"

"Better than Throgmorton street, you money grubber," Hargrave replied.

"I should say so," Marston agreed, and he sank into a chair. "But, after all, you butterflies wouldn't be able to flap your wings out here if you hadn't us grubs working for you at home."

"How do I stand?" Hargrave asked.

"You own the O. P. trust," was the prompt reply. "Such as it is, you've got it safe and sound, practically every share that was ever issued and a few over. Glad it's you, not I!"

"And delivery?"

"They are thirty thousand shares short," Marston answered. "That is what I have come to see you about. The shares themselves have dropped. We forced them up to start with, with our continual buying, but today you're a pretty heavy loser on paper."

"And the thirty thousand shares I'm owed?"

"Trentino could no more get them than he could buy the Pyramids," Marston confided.

"Capital!" his client exclaimed. "Let's lunch."

They talked of indifferent matters during the consumption of the meal. It was not until the arrival of coffee that Hargrave returned to the subject of his speculation.

"You warned me once, Johnnie," he observed, "that Trentino was a dangerous man to run up against. You were quite right."

"What do you know about it?"

"Very nearly more than was good for me. While his firm, I suppose, have been trying to get you to sell or to cancel, he himself has been indulging in other forms of persuasion down here. He has a lady friend on the spot—a very charming woman, by-the-bye—who first tried to cajole and then threatened me. She didn't get on as well as she expected, and since then things have moved on a stage. I don't mind confessing, Johnnie, that I've had two eye shavers."

"What do you mean?" Marston demanded.

"Well, first of all," Hargrave continued, "some wandering chauffeur mechanic on a motor bicycle, whom no one has been able to lay their hands upon yet, put both my brakes out of action up at Mont Agel one day lately. There was only a foot or two of masonry between me and paradise that time. Since then another blackguard, or it may be the same fellow, hid in the gardens of the villa and took a shot at me as I was coming home one morning."

Marston was for a moment incredulous.

"You're not telling me this seriously, Hargrave?"

"I am, indeed," his friend assured him. "Both things took place exactly as I have told you, and, as I haven't another enemy in the world, what am I to think? The beautiful lady who professed to have a penchant for me, gave me the straight tip when she found I wasn't to be cajoled."

"Have you told the police?"

"Twice. The chief was very concerned and I think they've done their best. They've probably frightened that particular rascal out of the principality. Nothing has happened since, anyway."

Marston settled down to the task which was the chief reason of his journey.

"Look here, Hargrave," he began. "We've carried out your instructions rather too literally if anything. Of course, I know why you've engineered this affair. It is because of poor old Ned, isn't it?"

"Entirely," Hargrave admitted. "I've nothing personal against Trentino. He broke Ned in a particularly brutal manner, and I've always had it in my mind that I'd like to come back at him."

"But look here," Marston argued, "we've all talked this matter over in the office and it was agreed that I should come out and see you. Revenge is all very well, but it isn't business. You've shown Trentino what you can do. You've given him a nasty dusting, and you can make him pay like hell. I'm certain he's as sorry as any man could be that he ever interfered with Ned. You've gone as far as you can. I'd drop it now. If you pull Trentino down over this matter, the shares will drop with a wallow and you'll stand to lose at least half a million—pounds, I mean—instead of making nearly as much. You're a rich man, I know, old chap, but you can spend it if anyone can, and half a million, even to you, will make a difference."

"It will ease my death duties," Hargrave observed.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Constitution.)

(Continued Tomorrow)

THE GUMPS—HER PAINFUL DUTY

MOON MULLINS—OH, YES—MOON WILL KEEP THAT DATE

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—The Boy Should Visit the Arc de Triomphe

By Hayward

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

You'll Have to Wait Till Tomorrow

GASOLINE ALLEY—IN WHICH WALT IS TOLD SOMETHING

JUST NUTS

Aunt Het

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

Who's Your Friend?

Atlanta Society Honors Host Fair and Prominent Guests

Just as the happy parties that might be almost accidental, so natural and spontaneous is the gathering of congenial friends. Outstanding in these is the luncheon of Mrs. Conkey Whitehead, which will honor her mother, Mrs. Kelley Evans, who is en route to Egypt and stop in Atlanta for just one more glimpse of her many friends and relatives.

A rather informal party is the family dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Carter will entertain at their home on Springdale road complimenting the house guests, Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, and Mrs. Mary Hines Gunsaulus, who sails on January 20 for a trip around the world.

Hugh T. Inman will entertain at luncheon at her home for Mrs. Arthur C. Inman and Miss Whittemore, of Boston. Mrs. Raymond C. Hamilton, of Fort Meade, will be honored at a bridge-luncheon at the Biltmore by Mrs. C. N. Davis. Mrs. Walter Beaumont will give a bridge-noon for Miss Katherine McCullough. Mrs. Floyd Cox will entertain at a bridge-noon. Mrs. William H. Kiser will be the honor guest at a dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun.

The Junior girls of the Young Women's Hebrew association will present a play, "The Five Ghosts," in their auditorium tonight.

Boston Visitors

Honored at Parties.

Among the affairs given in honor of Mrs. Arthur C. Inman and Miss Elinor Whittemore, of Boston, this afternoon, Mrs. H. T. Inman, who will be the luncheon at which Mrs. H. T. Inman will be hostess Tuesday at her home on Peachtree street. Mrs. Samuel M. Inman entertained an intimate group of friends at dinner at her home on Peachtree street on Sunday evening. In their honor. Covers were laid for 12 guests.

Mrs. Wimbish Will

Be Honor Guest.

Mrs. William A. Wimbish, of Virginia, the attractive guest of Mrs. Edgar Himmelfarb, will be entertained at a series of parties during her visit in Atlanta.

Mrs. L. T. Stallings will entertain at a luncheon honoring this attractive visitor Wednesday at her home. Mrs. Peter Clarke will entertain Thursday at a delightful afternoon tea at her home on Eleventh street. Mrs. Clarke will be assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. William Earle Wood. Misses Rebecca Hodgson and Bernadine Clarke will also assist in the serving.

Miss Lechler Is

Honored Guest.

Miss Dorothy Lechler, of Charlotte, N. C., was honored at a delightful informal supper recently by Miss Harriett Oliver. Miss Lechler will be the central figure at a number of parties that will be given in compliment to her during her Atlanta visit.

Miss Arnold To Be

Given Affairs.

Noteworthy among the future social affairs will be those given in honor of Miss Frances Arnold and Hugh Richardson, whose marriage will be one of the outstanding social events of January.

Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson will be honored by Mr. and Mrs. John King Ottley at the dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore Wednesday evening, January 13. Miss Virginia Campbell, lovely debutante, to share honors.

Faxer Maddox will entertain Saturday evening, January 16, at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Wednesday, January 20, Miss Virginia Orme Campbell will be hostess at "Belvoir" at a dinner party in compliment to Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Mrs. Morris Brandon will give a luncheon Thursday, January 21, at the Piedmont Driving club for Miss Arnold, Saturday, January 23. Norris Broyles will entertain at a dinner party for Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Lawson Kiser will give a luncheon at "Knollwood" Wednesday, January 27, in compliment to Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Thursday, January 28, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman will give a dinner party for this popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant will be hosts at a dancing party that evening at "Craigellachie" in honor of Miss Arnold and her nephew, Mr. Richardson.

Friday evening, January 29, Mr. and Mrs. Hollins Randolph will entertain.

Mrs. Whitehead Will Honor Mrs. Evans At Luncheon Today

Although very informal the luncheon at which Mrs. Conkey Whitehead will entertain Tuesday at 1 o'clock at her home on Pace's Ferry road for her mother, Mrs. Kelley A. Evans, bids fair to prove one of the most delightful functions of the season according to accounts of the favored ones who are invited.

Mrs. Evans maintains her permanent home at Hot Springs, Va., but visits her former home, Atlanta, frequently enough to hold a large circle of friends that form a group of the most interesting Atlantans. She is staying some time at the Atlanta Biltmore. After her visit in Atlanta, Mrs. Evans expects to join Colonel Evans in New York at the Hotel Plaza, and they will leave for Europe to travel for several months.

ter, a graduate of Girls' High school and of Vassar college. Her mother was Miss Edith Wesselbaum, of Macon.

Mrs. Finsterwald is the son of C. A. Finsterwald of Detroit. He is the vice president of the C. A. Finsterwald Wholesale Rug and Carpet company.

The date of the wedding will be announced later.

Randolph-Macon Club Entertained.

The Randolph-Macon club was entertained on Friday by Miss Mildred Conkey Whitehead, of Philadelphia. A large number of members were present. Miss Blodgett gave a very interesting and comprehensive review of Hugh Walpole's novel, "Portrait of a Man with Red Hair."

At the next regular meeting in February Mrs. Ben Hall will entertain with a bridge-noon.

Mrs. Shote Has Returned To City.

Mrs. Charles Wright, state president of the Daughters of 1812, and Mrs. Samuel B. Shote, of Philadelphia, vice president of the national association, have returned from New Orleans, where they attended the national board meeting of the Daughters of 1812. Mrs. Shote will remain in Atlanta, where she has made many friends on former visits, for some time as the guest of Mrs. Wright.

College Park

B. Y. P. U. Meets.

The College Park B. Y. P. U. held its weekly meeting at the home of Miss Corrie Mae Nelson.

After business was discussed a social hour was enjoyed by all. Many members who have been attending college and were home for the holidays visited the B. Y. P. U. They were: Miss Ruth Wright, Miss Frances Lawrence, Miss Margaret Dean and James Dennard.

"The Five Ghosts"

Will Be Given.

The Junior Division of the Y. W. H. A. will present a comedy "The Five Ghosts" at the Y. W. H. A. auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

The cast of characters includes Miss Sylvia Mendel, Miss Ruth Long, Miss Bessie Cohen, Miss Dorothy Shufelt, Miss Stelle Spielberger, Miss Lucy Ide, Miss Dora Marks, Miss Dora Roushlin, Miss Minnie Rosenberg, Miss Sara Bromberg and Miss Aileen Friedman.

Mrs. Smearing, who played one of the leading roles in "Dawn of Light," will give several readings, written and staged by Lewis J. Morton.

Jaqueline Gullatt, five-year-old dancing artist, will sing and dance. Miss Mary Semon will demonstrate the beginning of the Charleston. Miss Frankie Mueller will be seen in a dance divertissement. The artists other than those in the play are students of the L. J. Morton School of Dancing and Expression and will appear under his personal supervision.

Cornerstone Will

Be Laid in Decatur.

The D. A. R. League of Women Voters, U. D. C. Fine Arts club, woman's division of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the D. A. R. to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the Decatur Woman's club-house Friday, January 15, at 2:30 o'clock. This occasion will precede the regular monthly meeting of the club which will be held in the woman's parlor of the First Presbyterian church, Decatur, at 3 o'clock.

The members of the executive board are presenting the cornerstone to the club. Members of the executive board are Mrs. Bay Jones, president; Mrs. W. S. Elkin, Jr., first vice president; Mrs. William Schley Howard, second vice president; Mrs. William Alden, third vice president; Mrs. G. H. Stevenson, fourth vice president; Mrs. A. D. Busch, recording secretary; Mrs. W. A. Ozmer, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Holbo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. P. McGeechy, treasurer; Mrs. C. H. Blount, auditor; Mrs. A. S. Samuels, parliamentarian; Mrs. W. D. Hoyt, chairman of finance; Mrs. J. S. Elr, assistant; Mrs. W. S. Young, chairman civic department; Mrs. J. M. Royall, garden division; Mrs. J. E. McKinley, sanitation; Mrs. C. Lawton, public welfare; Mrs. Henry Earhartman, narcotic chairman; Mrs. E. C. Hicks, prison chairman; Mrs. W. S. Neimes, hospital chairman; Mrs. B. B. Cheek, relief committee; Mrs. E. B. Branch, clinic chairman; Mrs. R. D. Osterhout, publicity chairman; Mrs. Charles Weekes, house committee; Mrs. Frank Grizzard, scrap book chairman; Mrs. J. B. Hosmer, fine arts committee; Mrs. George Watts, membership; Mrs. R. C. Henderson, social chairman; Mrs. J. A. Campbell, subscription; Mrs. Wiley Jones, junior department; Mrs. Frank B. Pond, ex-president.

Miss Ruth Paden

Is Entertained.

Miss Loie Latham entertained on Monday afternoon in compliment to Miss Ruth Paden, a bride-elect, at a matinee party. The guests included Miss Iverson Dews, Miss Mary Blanche Virgin, Miss Alma Gihbert, Miss Ann Seully, Mrs. Dean Paden, Mrs. Tom Ripley, Mrs. J. N. Harrison, Mrs. Alfred Green, Miss Elizabeth Jackson.

A number of other parties will be given during the week. Among those entertaining are Mrs. Harry Dews, who will entertain on Tuesday. On Wednesday, Mrs. T. P. Cornell and Mrs. Harrison will entertain at the home of Mrs. Harrison. On Thursday, Mrs. J. L. Jackson will be hostess for the members of her book club and Miss Paden, and her bridal party. Friday Mrs. H. E. Clark will entertain at her home on Howard street and Saturday Miss Mary Blanche Virgin, one of the members of the bridal party, will be hostess for Miss Paden.

O. E. S. No. 8 To Install Officers.

A beautiful and impressive ceremony will be that of the installation of the officers of East Atlanta chapter, No. 108, next Tuesday evening in the Minor lodge room in East Atlanta. Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby, worthy

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Hugh T. Inman will entertain at a luncheon in her home honoring Mrs. Arthur C. Inman and Miss Whittemore, of Boston.

Mrs. C. N. Davis will entertain at a bridge-luncheon at the Biltmore honoring Mrs. Raymond C. Hamilton, of Fort Meade, Md.

Mrs. Walter Beaumont will entertain at a bridge-noon at her home on Peachtree road honoring Miss Katherine McCullough.

Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun will entertain at dinner complimenting Mrs. William H. Kiser.

Mrs. Floyd Cox will entertain at a bridge-noon at her home on Atwood street.

A play, "The Five Ghosts," will be given tonight at 8 o'clock at the Y. M. H. A.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Carter will entertain at an informal family dinner this evening at their home on Springdale road as a compliment to Mrs. Mary Hines Gunsaulus, who sails January 20 for a voyage around the world, and Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, their house guest.

Mrs. Conkey P. Whitehead will entertain at luncheon for Mrs. K. A. Evans, of Hot Springs, Va.

Mrs. Harry Dews will honor Miss Ruth Paden at a party today.

grand marshal of the General Grand chapter, will be the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Jessie B. Owens, acting grand marshal, and Mrs. Leslie McWilliams, acting grand chaplain.

This chapter is glad of the privilege of having an officer from the General Grand chapter install these officers. The installation will be public and all members of the order and friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. Hamilton Is

Honored by Friends.

Mrs. Raymond Cecil Hamilton, of Fort Meade, Md., is the feteed guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin S. Barker, at their home on Columbia avenue. Before her wedding, an Atlanta social event of last spring, Mrs. Hamilton made her home here and she is being cordially welcomed by a large group of friends.

Mrs. Robert Ennis will be hostess at an informal luncheon at her home on Piedmont avenue Thursday for Mrs. Hamilton. The guests will include a group of friends.

Wednesday evening, Colonel and Mrs. Pat M. Stevenson will compliment this attractive visitor with a bridge-noon.

Infants' Dresses

Infants, 6 Mos., 1 Year

Fine nainsook dresses, hand-made, trimmed with dainty lace and featherstitching.

69c

Dresses of fine nainsook, hand-made with fine pin tuck and drawwork, and daintily hand-embroidered French knots, featherstitching, or delicate smocking. Some with tiny yokes, and embroidered at bottom of skirt.

95c

A number of lovely styles in fine handmade dresses, lace-trimmed and hand-embroidered. Some with exquisite smocking, shirring or hand-drawn work, with French knots. Some styles with little yokes.

$1.29

Philippine handmade Dress, infants' and 1 year, seven different styles at this price, $2.95.

Infants' Slips

Infants, 6 Mos., 1 Year

Dainty handmade gertrudes of fine nainsook. Plain, or hand-scalloped and lace-trimmed styles.

Plain style 69c
Scalloped edge style 95c
Slip with lace and featherstitching at bottom $1.45
Slip with scalloped edge and dainty embroidery at bottom $1.95

Flannel Slips

All-wool white flannel gertrudes, made on muslin waist. Best quality flannel. Plain or hand-scalloped and embroidered models.

Plain style, hemmed $1.65
Slip with silk featherstitching at bottom $1.95
Slip with scalloped hem, and dainty featherstitching up side seams $2.50

Wicker Wardrobe, Ivory Enamel $10.75.

Mrs. Gunsaulus To Be Honored Prior To World Voyage

Mrs. Mary Hines Gunsaulus will leave Atlanta on Monday, January 18, for New York, where she will sail on January 20, on the S. S. "Laconia" for a voyage around the world.

Mrs. Gunsaulus will be entertained informally at a number of parties prior to her sailing.

She will have a very interesting trip. Sailing from New York, her first stop will be Cuba, then through the Panama canal, stopping off at Panama City, to the coast of California, on to the Hawaiian islands, Japan, China and the Philippines, where she will be joined by her friends, Captain and Mrs. H. E. Featherstone, who will continue on the trip with her.

She will also visit Java, Ceylon, Greece, Cairo, Italy, the Holy Land, and the Riviera, from where she will go to Paris, which she plans to reach in June, and join other friends, and spend a month or two before returning to the states.

Among those entertaining for Mrs. Gunsaulus will be Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Carter, Sr., who will give an informal dinner for her this evening at their home on Springdale road.

This will be a family party, and sharing honors with Mrs. Gunsaulus will be Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, the house guest of Mrs. Carter. Mrs. Carter's guests will include Mrs. Gunsaulus, Miss Moss, Judge and Mrs. J. K. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter, Jr.

Mrs. Cator Woolford will entertain at an informal luncheon one day this week at her apartment in the Biltmore in honor of Mrs. Gunsaulus, the exact date to be announced later.

There will be several other informal affairs given for her, which will be announced at an early date.

North Side

Embroidery Club.

The North Side Embroidery club will meet with Mrs. William G. King, 815 Ponce de Le-a avenue, Wednesday afternoon, January 13, at 3 o'clock.

Distinguished English Guests Arrive Wednesday for Visit

Distinguished arrivals in Atlanta on Wednesday will be Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Wade, of Staffordshire, England, who will spend several days at the Atlanta Biltmore en route to Palm Beach, Fla., to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade will be pleasantly remembered by a number of prominent Atlantans who met this delightful and cultured English couple at Grove Park Inn, Asheville, N. C., in the summer of 1924. They have traveled all over America and are very partial to southerners and this particular section of the United States, declaring that the people and their customs remind them of their countrymen and their own beloved country—England.

Other parties to compliment Mr. and Mrs. Wade will be announced later.

it wasn't until the news was received that the Savannah League was elected that the members dared believe it would actually happen."

"It is very nice to know there is a 'sister league' in the state of Georgia now, and perhaps before long other cities in this state will have chapters.

Merry Needle Club Meets.

On Wednesday last, Mrs. E. L. Gifford, Sr., entertained the Merry Needle Sewing club and their friends at a spend-the-day party, complimenting Mrs. J. A. Apperson, of Warren, Ariz., a former member of the club.

Covers were laid for 18 guests.

"OK"
Lew Adler

Baby's Own Week!

The Happiest Combination Of Real Quality and Value In Everything For Baby's Comfort

Flannel Gertrude with cambric top. Infants' to one year, $1.95.

Handmade Dress, Infants' to one year, 12 styles at this price, 95c.

Nainsook Gertrude, dainty hand-scalloped. Infants' to 1 yr. 95c.

Handmade Dress, infants' to 1 yr.; many designs; at this price, $1.95.

We hope every mother who possibly can will share in this eventful offering of infants' wear and accessories. Months of careful planning and buying and special arrangements with various producers have enabled us to present for "Baby Week" what we feel assured to be

The Best Qualities and Values

We have ever seen in infants' wear, accessories and furniture! We are confident that every mother who sees will agree that these offerings, for quality and price, are values incomparable!

Dresses

Very fine nainsook dresses, hand-made, with dainty yokes, or hand-scalloped collars, round or pointed, especially appropriate for boy babies. Other styles with fine pin tucks, and heading or featherstitching on yoke and sleeves.

$1.95

Dresses

Nainsook, hand-made, lace-trimmed, and hand-embroidered. Some with beautifully embroidered designs on yoke. Others with dainty hand-scalloping at neck, sleeves and bottom of dress. Turn-back cuffs.

$2.95

Dresses

Really exquisite, this varied group of elaborately hand-embroidered and lace-trimmed dresses of sheerest nainsook. Dainty designs on yokes and cuffs. Some with exquisite panel of embroidery down front.

$3.95

Diapers Specially Priced

Practical, hemmed diapers, all ready for use. These come 12 to a package. Sell by package only.

Size 22x22-inch. Regular $2.25, at $1.55
Size 27x27-inch. Regular $2.75, at $2.25
Size 30x30-inch. Regular $3.25, at $2.50
Size 20x40-inch. Regular $3.00, at $2.50
Size 22x44-inch. Regular $3.75, at $2.75
Size 24x48-inch. Regular $4.00, at $3.25

High Chair, Ivory Enamel $6.95

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

Atlanta Society Honors Host Fair and Prominent Guests

Just as the happy parties that might be almost accidental, so natural and spontaneous is the gathering of congenial friends. Outstanding in these is the luncheon of Mrs. Conkey Whitehead, which will honor her mother, Mrs. Kelley Evans, who is en route to Egypt and stop in Atlanta for just one more glimpse of her many friends and relatives.

A rather informal party is the family dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Carter will entertain at their home on Springdale road complimenting the house guests, Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, and Mrs. Mary Hines Gunsaulus, who sails on January 20 for a trip around the world.

Hugh T. Inman will entertain at luncheon at her home for Mrs. Arthur C. Inman and Miss Whittemore, of Boston. Mrs. Raymond C. Hamilton, of Fort Meade, will be honored at a bridge-luncheon at the Biltmore by Mrs. C. N. Davis. Mrs. Walter Beaumont will give a bridge-noon for Miss Katherine McCullough. Mrs. Floyd Cox will entertain at a bridge-noon. Mrs. William H. Kiser will be the honor guest at a dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun.

The Junior girls of the Young Women's Hebrew association will present a play, "The Five Ghosts," in their auditorium tonight.

Boston Visitors

Honored at Parties.

Among the affairs given in honor of Mrs. Arthur C. Inman and Miss Elinor Whittemore, of Boston, this afternoon, Mrs. H. T. Inman, who will be the luncheon at which Mrs. H. T. Inman will be hostess Tuesday at her home on Peachtree street. Mrs. Samuel M. Inman entertained an intimate group of friends at dinner at her home on Peachtree street on Sunday evening. In their honor. Covers were laid for 12 guests.

Mrs. Wimbish Will

Be Honor Guest.

Mrs. William A. Wimbish, of Virginia, the attractive guest of Mrs. Edgar Himmelfarb, will be entertained at a series of parties during her visit in Atlanta.

Mrs. L. T. Stallings will entertain at a luncheon honoring this attractive visitor Wednesday at her home. Mrs. Peter Clarke will entertain Thursday at a delightful afternoon tea at her home on Eleventh street. Mrs. Clarke will be assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. William Earle Wood. Misses Rebecca Hodgson and Bernadine Clarke will also assist in the serving.

Miss Lechler Is

Honored Guest.

Miss Dorothy Lechler, of Charlotte, N. C., was honored at a delightful informal supper recently by Miss Harriett Oliver. Miss Lechler will be the central figure at a number of parties that will be given in compliment to her during her Atlanta visit.

Miss Arnold To Be

Given Affairs.

Noteworthy among the future social affairs will be those given in honor of Miss Frances Arnold and Hugh Richardson, whose marriage will be one of the outstanding social events of January.

Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson will be honored by Mr. and Mrs. John King Ottley at the dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore Wednesday evening, January 13. Miss Virginia Campbell, lovely debutante, to share honors.

Faxer Maddox will entertain Saturday evening, January 16, at the Piedmont Driving club in honor of Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Wednesday, January 20, Miss Virginia Orme Campbell will be hostess at "Belvoir" at a dinner party in compliment to Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Mrs. Morris Brandon will give a luncheon Thursday, January 21, at the Piedmont Driving club for Miss Arnold, Saturday, January 23. Norris Broyles will entertain at a dinner party for Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Lawson Kiser will give a luncheon at "Knollwood" Wednesday, January 27, in compliment to Miss Arnold and Mr. Richardson.

Thursday, January 28, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman will give a dinner party for this popular young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Grant will be hosts at a dancing party that evening at "Craigellachie" in honor of Miss Arnold and her nephew, Mr. Richardson.

Friday evening, January 29, Mr. and Mrs. Hollins Randolph will entertain.

Mrs. Whitehead Will Honor Mrs. Evans At Luncheon Today

Although very informal the luncheon at which Mrs. Conkey Whitehead will entertain Tuesday at 1 o'clock at her home on Pace's Ferry road for her mother, Mrs. Kelley A. Evans, bids fair to prove one of the most delightful functions of the season according to accounts of the favored ones who are invited.

Mrs. Evans maintains her permanent home at Hot Springs, Va., but visits her former home, Atlanta, frequently enough to hold a large circle of friends that form a group of the most interesting Atlantans. She is staying some time at the Atlanta Biltmore. After her visit in Atlanta, Mrs. Evans expects to join Colonel Evans in New York at the Hotel Plaza, and they will leave for Europe to travel for several months.

ter, a graduate of Girls' High school and of Vassar college. Her mother was Miss Edith Wesselbaum, of Macon.

Mrs. Finsterwald is the son of C. A. Finsterwald of Detroit. He is the vice president of the C. A. Finsterwald Wholesale Rug and Carpet company.

The date of the wedding will be announced later.

Midyear Pan-Hellenic Honored by Football Heroes At Druid Hills Club

Nothing was spared by either hosts or guests in the way of every conceivable contribution to the success of the midyear Pan-Hellenic dance Friday night at the Druid Hills Golf Club.

From the first moment of entrance and the gracious greetings of Marthanne Sanders right on through to Lennie Lyda's string of servitors with their trays of tempting "buffet," every appointment was absolutely perfect.

Each guest gave of herself or himself to their utmost. The girls were becomingly gowned and most pleasing in every way and the boys looked quite up to the mark in their conventional tucks.

Football Luminaries. All of the football heroes, from H. R. H. Douglas Wycoff down, honored this occasion. There were, besides Douglas, Ike Williams, Walt Goff, Gus Morke, Owen Lyle, Carter Barron, Johnny Marshall, Sam Murray, Mack Thorpe, Wallace Foster—all were there.

But you wouldn't have recognized a single one of them as your old hero of Grant Field days. Your thought of them would be entirely incompatible with these well-groomed gentlemen of polish and suavity.

No apologies! It is quite an accomplishment to do the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde thing which they did Friday night.

To convert a rough and ready football star into one of those Apollos in full evening habiliments was an accomplishment, but one which seemed not to confuse anyone involved. There must be something wonderfully inspirational about the great grid game to produce such magnificent results.

In the jam of this crowded ballroom floor and camouflaged in tucks, as they were, their broad shoulders and Herculean frames were easily picked from the crowd.

And, parenthetically, I want to ask what is there of a psychological nature which attracts these young giants to the finest piece of femininity—ONLY—to be seen dancing on this occasion. Not one of these 250 pounders was seen dancing a single time with a girl who could tip the beam at over 100 pounds.

The attraction of extremes, undoubtedly! "I ain't fair!"

All girls can't be like that, and yet what girl wouldn't forego eating for months to get to dance one time with one of these mighty lords of football!

A New Precedent. Dan Sanford, a charming young professor of hydraulics at Tech—yes, quite a few of the faculty were present—had some very trenchant remarks to make along the line of social exploitation by football celebrities which at present is being indulged in.

That they are doing to glorify the ballroom and afternoon tea by their presence is a matter of good luck to be accorded to the present-day hosts and hostesses. The time has been when football stars were rather shy of social happenings. Mr. Sanford recalled the night when Everett Strupper of yesterday's fame as a football magnate—created the greatest furore when he appeared at a formal Tech dance.

Not so our boys of today! This new order of things is an expression of the change in the mental complex of today covering football activities.

No greater honor has Tech to bestow. These "sons of Tech," these "scions of the southland," in the words of their old mother, have arisen ready to garner into their very own keels many of the "victories of life" along all lines of endeavor, and certainly the one covering the social amenities.

Miss Moshier Honors Miss Lida Martin. Mrs. Nelson Moshier, of 240 East North avenue, entertained in honor of Miss Lida Martin Saturday afternoon with a farewell shower. Miss Martin leaves soon for Panama City, Fla., where she intends to make her future home.

Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon, the highest score being made by Mrs. Agnes Meyer, who was presented with a lovely hand-painted picture; the consolation was awarded Mrs. W. O. Cantrell.

During the latter part of the afternoon delightful refreshments were enjoyed by the guests. The favors were confectionary casket bouquets.

The guests included Mrs. Martin, Mrs. W. O. Cantrell, Miss Louise

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Parent-Teacher association of the North Avenue Presbyterian school will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the new high school building.

The meeting of the North Peachtree Road Woman's club will take place today.

An important called meeting will take place this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Wesley Memorial church of the Methodist Woman's Board of City Missions.

The executive board of Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., meets today at 10:30 o'clock at the chapter house, corner Juniper and Sixth streets.

The Washington Seminary Alumni association holds its regular meeting today at 3 o'clock in the parlors of the seminary.

The Shorter College club will meet today at 3 p. m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Claude Shewmake, 606 West Peachtree street.

Regular board meeting of the Atlanta Child's home will meet in the pine room of the Ansley hotel this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Piedmont W. C. T. U. meets this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Wesley Memorial church.

The College Park League of Women Voters holds its meeting at the home of Mrs. Dan Lyle at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

East Atlanta chapter No. 108, O. E. S., meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the East Atlanta Masonic temple.

Circle No. 4 of the Inman Park Methodist Missionary society meets today with Mrs. A. L. McArthur, 304 Lake avenue.

The meeting of the Rhododendron club will be held at the home of Mrs. L. J. Hulsey, 912 East North avenue, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The meeting of the Business Woman's circle of Oakland City Baptist church will be held this evening at 7:30 at the home of Miss Chappalier on Lee street.

The Mothers' Department union will meet at the Central Presbyterian church this morning.

The executive board of the Decatur Woman's club will meet in the ladies' parlor of the First Presbyterian church this morning at 10 o'clock.

The Atlanta Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women will meet this evening at the home of the Misses Corrigan, 238 North Moreland avenue, at 6:30 o'clock.

The P. T. A. executive committee of Commercial High school will hold a meeting at the school this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a joint meeting of the executive board of the Atlanta council P. T. A. and the chairman appointed for the national convention to be held in Atlanta the week of May 3 this morning at 10 o'clock in the chamber of commerce.

The meeting of the Grant Park P. T. A. will be held today at the school.

The Pre-School Age circle of the Oakland City P. T. A. will hold its meeting today at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Brookhaven Parent-Teacher association will have a meeting in the school auditorium this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Lee Street P. T. A. will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The meeting of P. T. A. of Peachtree Heights school will be held in the school auditorium, Peachtree road, at 2:30 today.

The officers-elect of Fulton Rebekah lodge will be installed this evening.

The P. T. A. of Crew Street school will hold a meeting today at 2:30 o'clock.

The executive board meeting of the Edgewood P. T. A. will be held at the school today at noon.

The War Mothers' Service Star legion will meet at 3 o'clock in Edico hall, corner of Peachtree and Harris streets.

The regular meeting of Kirkwood chapter No. 223, O. E. S., will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Pi Epsilon Sorority alumni of Woodberry Hall will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Marian Morgan on Ponce de Leon avenue.

A meeting of the Piedmont W. C. T. U. will be held at 10:30 o'clock in Wesley Memorial church.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. H. R. Hedges, of Chattanooga, has returned home after having been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fite.

Miss Virginia Cree, of Gaffney, S. C., has returned home after a short visit in the city.

Miss Venetia Head, of Douglasville, was in the city recently.

G. C. Arwinc, formerly of Atlanta, but now of Birmingham, is on a business trip to New York. He will return by way of Atlanta, where he will be joined by Mrs. Arwinc and their two young sons, Grover, Jr. and Billy, who have been spending the holidays with the parents of Mrs. Arwinc, and they will all return to their home on "The Highlands" in Birmingham.

Miss Mattie May Banks, of Fayetteville, has returned home.

Joshua Schofield, of Bradenton, Fla., has returned home.

Dr. I. G. Walker, formerly of Louisville, Ga., is now making his home in the city.

Carlyle Brooks, formerly of Atlanta, has accepted a position in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., which is now his home.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Young, of Columbus, Ga., were in the city last week.

Dr. T. C. Burrell, of Palmetto, was a recent guest in the city.

Mrs. Walter P. Andrews returned Tuesday from a short business trip to Pinehurst, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Swann have returned from a motor trip to Savannah.

Mr. and Mrs. Trammell Scott announce the birth of a daughter at Piedmont sanitarium January 11. The little girl has been given the name of Mary Trammell, for her paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Mary Trammell Scott.

Frank B. Sites, of Philadelphia, Pa., is in Atlanta, and will be joined this week by Mrs. Sites, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. M. L. Lendon, in Waco, Texas, for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Sites will return to Philadelphia, where they will in future reside, after having been popular residents of Atlanta for the past two years. Mr. Sites is a son of Congressman and distinguished members of the social life of Harrisburg, Pa., the former having represented his state for many years in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Mrs. A. F. McGhee, of Macon, is visiting relatives in Atlanta.

K. B. Kenner, of Kingsport, Tenn., is registered at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. William A. Wimble, of Newport News, Va., formerly of Atlanta, is the guest for several days of Mrs. Edgar Hummel, at her home on Peachtree street en route to Florida.

General Jonett Henry, of Hopkinsville, Mo., is in the city.

Mrs. E. P. Amerine and Miss Zaidie Amerine leave for Macon, where they will visit Mrs. J. C. McAfee at her home on Forsyth road.

Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carter, Sr., at their home on Springfield road.

Mrs. E. P. Amerine and Miss Zaidie Amerine leave for Macon, where they will visit Mrs. J. C. McAfee at her home on Forsyth road.

Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carter, Sr., at their home on Springfield road.

Mrs. E. P. Amerine and Miss Zaidie Amerine leave for Macon, where they will visit Mrs. J. C. McAfee at her home on Forsyth road.

Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carter, Sr., at their home on Springfield road.

Mrs. E. P. Amerine and Miss Zaidie Amerine leave for Macon, where they will visit Mrs. J. C. McAfee at her home on Forsyth road.

Miss Julia Moss, of Boston, Mass., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Carter, Sr., at their home on Springfield road.

Mrs. E. P. Amerine and Miss Zaidie Amerine leave for Macon, where they will visit Mrs. J. C. McAfee at her home on Forsyth road.

Col. and Mrs. Haskell Will Give Dinner For Mrs. Oswald

Colonel and Mrs. E. E. Haskell will entertain at an elegantly appointed dinner Thursday evening, January 14, at their quarters at Fort McPherson, in compliment to Mrs. O. P. Oswald, of San Francisco, Cal., sister of Mrs. Haskell, who is their guest.

Invited to meet Mrs. Oswald will be a group of prominent members of the army of society.

Mrs. George Carrington, of Panama, will remain at Fort McPherson until April as the guest of her parents, Colonel and Mrs. Haskell, when she will be joined by her husband, Lieutenant Carrington, who is stationed at Fort Gaillard, in the Canal zone, and will come to Atlanta on a several weeks' leave of absence.

Brisee and she between them had evidently arranged to dine alone somewhere, and so had had "let him down." Tripping over a footstool or cushion, he stifled a curse, his nerves on edge.

Somewhere inside, a still small voice was whispering: "Landis! Ridgeway, you are weak and vacillating! Lyda has got you back into her toils! Can't you be a man, and play the game with this unfortunate child who is your wife?"

He strode across the room and drew the curtains, flinging the windows wide. The soft air blew against his forehead.

Throbbing minutes passed. Then, quietly, he went to his wife's closed door, tried the handle, and found it locked.

His lips curled whimsically. "Not wanted here?"

Out that she should have locked her door tonight! He had never crossed the threshold of that room, nor would he. They had their definite understanding.

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

On one side a social prestige, on the other her newly-inherited wealth. A fair bargain, wasn't it?

And yet— He couldn't sleep here in the suite, somehow. In his present frame of mind, with the knowledge of the last few hours whirling like a delicious but forbidden dream inside his consciousness, he couldn't linger within the radius of his wife's presence. . .

In the expensive rooms her money paid for. . . as her guest!

Lyda! Enchantment! Stolen ecstasies! Delight!

He lifted his hat and coat from the rack in the little hallway, and let himself out of the hotel suite quietly, walking down the four flights to the street. Neither his coming nor his going had been remarked by the night porter, who was somewhere in the kitchen regions, looking for refreshments.

"I'll get a bath and a couple of hours' sleep at the club," reflected young Ridgeway as he strode away, the cool air blowing on his forehead. How the hotel suite had stifled him! How the sudden consciousness of Rosily's money had pressed him down!

To have been bought—had been trapped—by a girl's wealth! It was humiliating. Nay, more, it was contemptuous!

No link, beyond the legal tie, existed that could bind them. What had the pair in common?

Not a single thought! Tonight's companionship with Lyda had shown him, clearer than anything, since his wedding day, what an insufferable bond the whole thing was.

It was significant of the latent generosity of Landis' character that he never for one single moment did he blame his mother and her machinations.

He cursed himself for a traitorous cad, a paltry hang-on. In this mood his club was reached. He bathed and shaved and then lay down in the hopes of wooing fugitive slumber.

But the noises of the waking city roused him. And with the rush of day, and a fuller realization of his queer, anomalous position, every scold and snore of the city seemed to be directed at him. A pall—misery that did not lift until about 11 o'clock he was summoned to the telephone and the thrill of Lyda Harbrow's voice, so gentle and coaxing that a man's pain must melt before its magic!

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

On one side a social prestige, on the other her newly-inherited wealth. A fair bargain, wasn't it?

And yet— He couldn't sleep here in the suite, somehow. In his present frame of mind, with the knowledge of the last few hours whirling like a delicious but forbidden dream inside his consciousness, he couldn't linger within the radius of his wife's presence. . .

In the expensive rooms her money paid for. . . as her guest!

Lyda! Enchantment! Stolen ecstasies! Delight!

He lifted his hat and coat from the rack in the little hallway, and let himself out of the hotel suite quietly, walking down the four flights to the street. Neither his coming nor his going had been remarked by the night porter, who was somewhere in the kitchen regions, looking for refreshments.

"I'll get a bath and a couple of hours' sleep at the club," reflected young Ridgeway as he strode away, the cool air blowing on his forehead. How the hotel suite had stifled him! How the sudden consciousness of Rosily's money had pressed him down!

To have been bought—had been trapped—by a girl's wealth! It was humiliating. Nay, more, it was contemptuous!

No link, beyond the legal tie, existed that could bind them. What had the pair in common?

Not a single thought! Tonight's companionship with Lyda had shown him, clearer than anything, since his wedding day, what an insufferable bond the whole thing was.

It was significant of the latent generosity of Landis' character that he never for one single moment did he blame his mother and her machinations.

He cursed himself for a traitorous cad, a paltry hang-on. In this mood his club was reached. He bathed and shaved and then lay down in the hopes of wooing fugitive slumber.

But the noises of the waking city roused him. And with the rush of day, and a fuller realization of his queer, anomalous position, every scold and snore of the city seemed to be directed at him. A pall—misery that did not lift until about 11 o'clock he was summoned to the telephone and the thrill of Lyda Harbrow's voice, so gentle and coaxing that a man's pain must melt before its magic!

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

On one side a social prestige, on the other her newly-inherited wealth. A fair bargain, wasn't it?

And yet— He couldn't sleep here in the suite, somehow. In his present frame of mind, with the knowledge of the last few hours whirling like a delicious but forbidden dream inside his consciousness, he couldn't linger within the radius of his wife's presence. . .

In the expensive rooms her money paid for. . . as her guest!

Lyda! Enchantment! Stolen ecstasies! Delight!

He lifted his hat and coat from the rack in the little hallway, and let himself out of the hotel suite quietly, walking down the four flights to the street. Neither his coming nor his going had been remarked by the night porter, who was somewhere in the kitchen regions, looking for refreshments.

"I'll get a bath and a couple of hours' sleep at the club," reflected young Ridgeway as he strode away, the cool air blowing on his forehead. How the hotel suite had stifled him! How the sudden consciousness of Rosily's money had pressed him down!

To have been bought—had been trapped—by a girl's wealth! It was humiliating. Nay, more, it was contemptuous!

No link, beyond the legal tie, existed that could bind them. What had the pair in common?

Not a single thought! Tonight's companionship with Lyda had shown him, clearer than anything, since his wedding day, what an insufferable bond the whole thing was.

It was significant of the latent generosity of Landis' character that he never for one single moment did he blame his mother and her machinations.

He cursed himself for a traitorous cad, a paltry hang-on. In this mood his club was reached. He bathed and shaved and then lay down in the hopes of wooing fugitive slumber.

But the noises of the waking city roused him. And with the rush of day, and a fuller realization of his queer, anomalous position, every scold and snore of the city seemed to be directed at him. A pall—misery that did not lift until about 11 o'clock he was summoned to the telephone and the thrill of Lyda Harbrow's voice, so gentle and coaxing that a man's pain must melt before its magic!

THE GILDED ROSE

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

Landis Leaves.

The suite was wrapped in silence when Landis entered it. In the tiny entrance hall, a subdued light burned.

Like a man intoxicated, he stumbled into the sitting room where daylight filtered through the shaded windows. Had Rosily returned? Was she asleep?

What would she think of this evening's work? Well, wasn't it her own fault, for not turning up at the proper rendezvous? Hadn't she practically pushed him into Lyda Harbrow's arms?

And anyhow—come to think of it—wasn't he right and she to criticize his actions? She had as good as confessed to him that she had entered on this marriage contract solely for her own advancement.

Brisee and she between them had evidently arranged to dine alone somewhere, and so had had "let him down." Tripping over a footstool or cushion, he stifled a curse, his nerves on edge.

Somewhere inside, a still small voice was whispering: "Landis! Ridgeway, you are weak and vacillating! Lyda has got you back into her toils! Can't you be a man, and play the game with this unfortunate child who is your wife?"

He strode across the room and drew the curtains, flinging the windows wide. The soft air blew against his forehead.

Throbbing minutes passed. Then, quietly, he went to his wife's closed door, tried the handle, and found it locked.

His lips curled whimsically. "Not wanted here?"

Out that she should have locked her door tonight! He had never crossed the threshold of that room, nor would he. They had their definite understanding.

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

On one side a social prestige, on the other her newly-inherited wealth. A fair bargain, wasn't it?

And yet— He couldn't sleep here in the suite, somehow. In his present frame of mind, with the knowledge of the last few hours whirling like a delicious but forbidden dream inside his consciousness, he couldn't linger within the radius of his wife's presence. . .

In the expensive rooms her money paid for. . . as her guest!

Lyda! Enchantment! Stolen ecstasies! Delight!

He lifted his hat and coat from the rack in the little hallway, and let himself out of the hotel suite quietly, walking down the four flights to the street. Neither his coming nor his going had been remarked by the night porter, who was somewhere in the kitchen regions, looking for refreshments.

"I'll get a bath and a couple of hours' sleep at the club," reflected young Ridgeway as he strode away, the cool air blowing on his forehead. How the hotel suite had stifled him! How the sudden consciousness of Rosily's money had pressed him down!

To have been bought—had been trapped—by a girl's wealth! It was humiliating. Nay, more, it was contemptuous!

No link, beyond the legal tie, existed that could bind them. What had the pair in common?

Not a single thought! Tonight's companionship with Lyda had shown him, clearer than anything, since his wedding day, what an insufferable bond the whole thing was.

It was significant of the latent generosity of Landis' character that he never for one single moment did he blame his mother and her machinations.

He cursed himself for a traitorous cad, a paltry hang-on. In this mood his club was reached. He bathed and shaved and then lay down in the hopes of wooing fugitive slumber.

But the noises of the waking city roused him. And with the rush of day, and a fuller realization of his queer, anomalous position, every scold and snore of the city seemed to be directed at him. A pall—misery that did not lift until about 11 o'clock he was summoned to the telephone and the thrill of Lyda Harbrow's voice, so gentle and coaxing that a man's pain must melt before its magic!

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

On one side a social prestige, on the other her newly-inherited wealth. A fair bargain, wasn't it?

And yet— He couldn't sleep here in the suite, somehow. In his present frame of mind, with the knowledge of the last few hours whirling like a delicious but forbidden dream inside his consciousness, he couldn't linger within the radius of his wife's presence. . .

In the expensive rooms her money paid for. . . as her guest!

Lyda! Enchantment! Stolen ecstasies! Delight!

He lifted his hat and coat from the rack in the little hallway, and let himself out of the hotel suite quietly, walking down the four flights to the street. Neither his coming nor his going had been remarked by the night porter, who was somewhere in the kitchen regions, looking for refreshments.

"I'll get a bath and a couple of hours' sleep at the club," reflected young Ridgeway as he strode away, the cool air blowing on his forehead. How the hotel suite had stifled him! How the sudden consciousness of Rosily's money had pressed him down!

To have been bought—had been trapped—by a girl's wealth! It was humiliating. Nay, more, it was contemptuous!

No link, beyond the legal tie, existed that could bind them. What had the pair in common?

Not a single thought! Tonight's companionship with Lyda had shown him, clearer than anything, since his wedding day, what an insufferable bond the whole thing was.

It was significant of the latent generosity of Landis' character that he never for one single moment did he blame his mother and her machinations.

He cursed himself for a traitorous cad, a paltry hang-on. In this mood his club was reached. He bathed and shaved and then lay down in the hopes of wooing fugitive slumber.

But the noises of the waking city roused him. And with the rush of day, and a fuller realization of his queer, anomalous position, every scold and snore of the city seemed to be directed at him. A pall—misery that did not lift until about 11 o'clock he was summoned to the telephone and the thrill of Lyda Harbrow's voice, so gentle and coaxing that a man's pain must melt before its magic!

But the insinuation was something of an insult, wasn't it? As though he were a cad. . .

She evidently feared him and mistrusted him. No doubt, too, she was angry.

She would be angrier still—make jealous scenes, maybe, if by any chance she heard of the magic motor ride Lyda had taken.

But he had forgotten that she did not care for him. On their wedding night she had very definitely told him so. A marriage of convenience. . .

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Siege of Quebec.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE BRITISH EXPEDITION SENT AGAINST QUEBEC CONSISTED OF A FLEET BEARING 9,000 SOLDIERS UNDER THE COMMAND OF JAMES WOLFE, A YOUNG BRIGADIER WHO HAD DISTINGUISHED HIMSELF WITH AMHERST BEFORE LOUISBURG.

MARQUIS DE MONTCAULM WAS IN COMMAND OF QUEBEC AND IN SPITE OF THE ATTEMPTS OF THE JEALOUS VAUDREUIL, GOVERNOR OF CANADA, TO UNDERMINE HIS AUTHORITY, HE HAD GATHERED 15,000 MEN TO DEFEND THE CITY. WOLFE REACHED QUEBEC ON JUNE 26, 1759.

THE TOWN OF QUEBEC WAS BUILT ON A ROCKY PENINSULA, PROTECTED ON TWO SIDES BY STEEP CLIFFS AND IN THE REAR BY STRONG FORTIFICATIONS. WOLFE REALIZED THE PLACE COULD NOT BE CARRIED BY ASSAULT, AND PLANTING BATTERIES ON THE OPPOSITE SHORE BEGAN A BOMBARDMENT.

HOPING TO BURN THE BRITISH FLEET, THE FRENCH BUILT HUGE FIRES ON RAFTS AND SET THEM ADRIFT ON THE RIVER. BUT THE ENGLISH WERE WATCHFUL AND WHEN A FIRE-RAFT CAME TOO NEAR, THEY SEIZED IT WITH GRAPPLING HOOKS AND TURNED IT ASIDE.

Miss Wimbish Is Honored

By Mrs. Loyless

Mrs. Donald A. Loyless was hostess Monday at a luncheon party at the Capital City club, the occasion honoring Mrs. William A. Wimbish, of Newport News, Va.

The guests were seated at an attractively appointed table, their places being marked by dainty hand-painted cards. A plateau of narcissi and Columbia roses formed the central decoration of the table, while similar mounds of these lovely flowers alternated with silver candlesticks holding pink tapers.

Mrs. Loyless wore a handsome gown of black satin embroidered in gold threads. Her hat was a smart model of black satin adorned with a gold ornament.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Wimbish, Mrs. Loyless, Mrs. Edgar Humphreys, Mrs. Clarence Coppinger, Mrs. Irving Thomas, Mrs. L. T. Stallings, Mrs. William A. Speer, Mrs. Annie Adair Foster, Mrs. Richard W. Court, Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Mrs. C. E. Beach, Mrs. Joseph P. Billups, Mrs. J. D. Young, of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Rix Stafford.

Mrs. Wimbish formerly resided in Atlanta for many years and is receiving a cordial welcome by her hosts of friends here. She is the guest at the present of Mrs. Edgar Humphreys, Sr., and will leave Wednesday for Florida to spend the remainder of the winter.

AMERICUS KIWANIANS RAISE LARGE SUM

Americus, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Americus Kiwanians expended approximately $2,300 for various purposes during the club year just closed. Total collections from dues and assessments were reported to the club by Tom Marshall, retiring secretary-treasurer, as $3,310.07, with the major expenses of the club listed as $2,055 for luncheons; $350 salaries; $225, sending delegate to international convention; $225, international Kiwanis dues, and $500 miscellaneous items.

MAYOR OF ATHENS ASKS CUT IN OWN SALARY

Athens, Ga., January 11.—(AP)—Mayor Dudley has begun his administration as chief executive of Athens by recommending a reduction in his salary from $1,500 a year to $1,000. Incidentally, this is the first time in the history of Athens that a mayor has made such a recommendation.

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup

Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the price. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really a miracle.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guarantees to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Blemishes and Irritations Quickly Disappear

When Cuticura is used. Bathe with the Soap and hot water, dry gently and anoint with the Ointment. This treatment not only soothes and heals unsightly and annoying pimples, rashes and skin irritations but tends to prevent such conditions.

Soap 25c, Ointment 25c and 50c. Talum 50c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: The J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

PLANNING BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS

The 1926 city planning commission organized Monday afternoon, electing Mayor Walter A. Sims chairman, as prescribed by law. Charles A. Wickham was reelected vice chairman and R. W. Torres, engineer and secretary.

Jesse Armstrong, former alderman and prominent in typographical union circles, Monday was appointed by the mayor to represent organized labor on the commission. Luther Still, who had been appointed by the mayor, notified the executive Monday that he would be resigning to decline on account of business reasons.

The other new member of the commission is J. H. Ewing, Sr., representing the real estate interests. Members of last year's commission, reappointed by the mayor this year, are Mrs. Joe Billups, representing the club women; Frank E. Pittman, representing contracting and building interests; Clarence Bell, representing the legal profession, and Mr. Wickham, representing railroad interests.

Notice will be mailed February 15 to residents of West End, Capitol View and Sylvan Hills, notifying them of their new house numbers under the plan to renumber all houses. This work is to be taken up by sections and by fall new numbers for the entire city will be in effect, Engineer Torres reported.

This step was ordered by the commission last year at the instance of Atlanta merchants, postoffice department, telegraph companies and other interests who said the present house-numbering system in Atlanta caused great inconveniences.

YOUTHFUL BANDIT DRAWS LONG TERM ON GUILTY PLEA

E. W. D'Hollosy, 16, was sentenced Monday to serve from 6 to 14 years on the charming notion he conceived of a plan of equity to two attempts to hold up and rob a drug store several weeks ago. Judge John D. Humphreys, of Fulton superior court, sentenced the youth and his companion, James P. Carey, who was shot dead by A. C. Goodyear, druggist, in passing the sentence.

Judge Humphreys declared that D'Hollosy and Carey were responsible and were the "real slayers" of William H. Cheek, Peachtree road grocer, who was slain December 10 in an attempted robbery.

The two charges were that D'Hollosy and his companion attempted to rob Dr. Goodyear at his store at 15 Angier avenue on the night of December 18. D'Hollosy got two to four years on this count, and drew a term of from four to ten years on the second count—that of robbing the drug store of J. L. Gilmer, of 97 Richardson street.

The youth made no statement.

Judge Humphreys declared that in shooting Carey, Dr. Goodyear had advertised that Atlanta merchants are armed and intend to resist robbery and that this had caused Cheek's killing, as the bandits thought he, too, intended to shoot.

Lawrenceville Holds Joint Installation Of Masonic Officers

Lawrenceville, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—A triple installation of the officers of the Eastern Star, blue lodge and Royal Arch Masons was held at the Masonic hall recently, the exercises commencing at 10:30 o'clock. The blue lodge officers were installed by Dr. G. S. Kelley, the Royal Arch officers by High Priest C. M. Morecock, after he had been inducted into office by Past High Priest Jesse J. Baggett, and Mrs. J. E. McElroy, of Norcross, associate worthy grand matron, installed the officers of the Amie Wina chapter, No. 202. One of the Eastern Star, Mrs. McElroy was assisted by Mrs. Joe Haley, organist; Mrs. E. S. Cook, marshal, and Mrs. Rapp, chaplain, who came out from Atlanta. The impressive exercises lasted until about 2 o'clock, after which luncheon was served to Masons and their families at the club rooms on the schoolhouse hill.

The Eastern Star officers are Mrs. Ellen Robinson, worthy matron; Judge G. G. Robinson, worthy patron; Mrs. Grace Craig, associate matron; Mrs. Julie Adair, conductress; Mrs. Virginia Bagwell, associate conductress; Miss Mirtice Kelley, secretary; Mrs. Tommie M. Thompson, treasurer; Mrs. Gerald Green, chaplain; Mrs. B. L. Patterson, marshal; Mrs. B. L. Patterson, marshal; Mrs. Sim O'Kelley, Adah; Mrs. Preston Cash, Ruth; Mrs. Lois May, Esther; Mrs. A. E. Robinson, Martha; Mrs. Otis Kelley, Electa; Mrs. Fred Craig, warder, and C. M. Morecock, sentinel.

The blue lodge officers are A. G. Robinson, worshipful master; C. A. McKelvey, senior warden; J. J. Baggett, junior warden; G. G. Robinson, treasurer; R. H. Young, secretary; J. H. Patterson, senior deacon; Fred E. Craig, senior steward; E. S. Camp, junior steward; Rev. B. R. Anderson, chaplain, and T. Adams, Tyler.

The Royal Arch officers installed are C. M. Morecock, high priest; Dr. G. S. Kelley, king; J. F. Langley, scribe; Judge G. G. Robinson, treasurer; W. E. Maffett, secretary; C. A. McKelvey, captain of the host; W. R. Leatherwood, principal sovereign; R. L. Robinson, Royal Arch captain; J. E. Robinson, master third veil; J. E. Pratt, master second veil; Fred E. Craig, master first veil; J. E. Maffett, sentinel.

Uncle Ray Says

The ancient Romans used to amuse themselves in many a way. There most rough and cruel amusement was found in the arenas. There was hardly a city or town in central or southern Italy where there was not at least one arena.

The arena was a field used for bloody fun. Prisoners of war and prisoners from jails made sport for crowds. Sometimes a group of men fought with a group of beasts brought to Italy from the jungles of Africa. Sometimes men fought against man, while the hated watchers shouted and yelled. The men who fought were known as "gladiators."

The nearest things we now have to the Roman arena fights are prize-fights and bull fights.

A better form of amusement at Rome was the chariot race. Men who usually drove four horses apiece sped around an oval track. Scores of thousands of men and women watched the rivals. The victor was hailed as a hero.

Roman theaters drew smaller crowds than the arenas or the race tracks, but there were always persons who preferred to watch a play than to see a fight or a race. Some of the plays were acted for the sake of making people laugh. Others had a more serious purpose. Many of the actors were slaves. It was usual for men to take the parts of women.

To amuse small groups of people, there were jugglers who tossed balls about, and made animals perform tricks.

Tomorrow—Nero.

Uncle Ray

Q. Which is more progressive today, India or China? Mary Lucy Gerone, age 13.

A. According to the latest figures, eight out of every 100 persons in India above the age of 10 are able to read and write. That is not a large proportion. In 1923 there were 8,800,000 students in elementary and advanced schools. That is a large number but we must remember that India has a population of 315,000,000. In all the schools and colleges of China there were, in 1923, 6,950,000 students. The population of China is larger than that of India, but the number of students is smaller. So we may say that China is behind India in regard to the number of students.

On the other hand, China has made much more progress in education during the past 20 years than has India. The number of students in China is now more than six times as great as it was in 1906.

MERCER TO CELEBRATE NATAL DAY THURSDAY

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Founders' day will be celebrated at Mercer university on Thursday, January 14.

Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, president of the university, will be the speaker at the exercises to be held in the chapel. After the exercises the students will be given a holiday, as has been the custom at Mercer for several years.

Mercer this year will celebrate the 20th year of its existence.

The university, now the leading educational institution of the Georgia Baptists, was founded at Penfield, Ga., on January 14, 1833. It was then under the leadership of Jesse Mercer, for whom it was named. After many years at Penfield, the university was finally removed to Macon in 1871. Since that time its history has been one of progress along all lines.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN DIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Funeral services for Mrs. Elmer D. Eppler, who died at her home in Philadelphia, Pa., last Saturday, will be held from the home in Philadelphia on Thursday, according to news received by relatives in Atlanta. Mrs. Eppler was formerly Miss Lora Venable, of Atlanta.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Willis Venable and sister of E. B. Venable, both of Atlanta. In addition to her mother and brother, Mrs. Eppler is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. Edwin Grayser, of Minneapolis, Minn.

WOMEN TO DISCUSS BUDGET FOR HOMES

The Women's Institute of Domestic Science and Arts is to meet at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the conference room of M. Rich Brothers. The chief topic of discussion will be "The Budget in the Home."

C. E. CASON GIVEN FOUR YEAR TERM IN ROBBERY CASE

C. E. Cason Monday was sentenced to serve four years at the state farm, following conviction in Judge John D. Humphreys' division of Fulton superior court on a charge of assault with intent to rob. His alleged partner, Charles Hoffman, will go on trial today on the same charges in the same court.

Cason and Hoffman are charged with trying to rob D. S. Craig, of Griffin, several weeks ago at the terminal station. Craig was on his way through the station to the hotel police, when the attempt was made.

Assistant Solicitor General Ed A. Stephens prosecuted the case.

GEORGIANS LEAVE TO ATTEND ROAD MEET IN CHICAGO

Chairman John N. Holder, of the state highway board, Chief Engineer W. R. Neel and other members of the executive staff of the state highway department, left Atlanta Monday for Chicago, where they will attend a national goods roads conference this week.

Accompanying the delegation from the Georgia highway department were several prominent Atlantans, including Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alexander, Miss Bessie Kempton, member of the house of representatives from Fulton county, and Miss Myrtle Smith, executive secretary to Governor Clifford Walker.

THREE MOTORISTS KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

Richmond, Va., January 11.—(AP)—Three persons, George H. Smith, of Haverhill, Mass., his wife and an elderly man, thought to be I. H. Boles, of the same city, were almost instantly killed today when a large touring car in which they were riding was struck by Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train No. 46, near Teman, a small village, 40 miles north of Richmond.

Clothing found in the demolished car led to the belief that a child also had been killed in the crash, but searching parties have been unable to find any trace of the boy early tonight.

The bodies of the three known victims were brought to Richmond aboard the train.

HOG SALE AT DAWSON HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Dawson, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Possibly the greatest number of hogs ever shipped out of Terrell county at one time was sold through the Terrell Sales association in Dawson last Wednesday by County Agent A. E. Gibson. There was a total of 343 hogs, weighing 62,824 pounds, enough to load four heavy cars, bringing the farmers who sold hogs at that time $8,100.

The grade and weight of the hogs follow: One hundred and ninety-two grading No. 1, and weighing 41,187 pounds; 75, No. 2, weighing 10,007 pounds; 47, No. 3, weighing 5,771 pounds; 10, No. 4, weighing 992 pounds, and 19 roughs weighing 4,461 pounds.

The price received was $10.24 per 100 pounds, and the successful bidder

Easy to Gain With Yeast and Iron

New Combination of Yeast with Vegetable Iron Builds Up Weight in Three Weeks

This new combination of yeast with vegetable iron, renews the action of sluggish blood, drives out dangerous body poisons, increases energy and endurance and supplies the system with the vitamins that build up weight.

For years yeast has been known as a rich vitamin food, but not until we perfected "ironized yeast"—which comes in concentrated tablet form, was it possible to take yeast and iron in the right proportions to build up weight.

Vegetable "Iron" when combined with yeast is quite easy to digest, therefore better for the system. And "yeast" when ironized, becomes just twice as beneficial as ordinary fresh or cake yeast.

Ironized Yeast tablets are composed of concentrated food elements, therefore, they are pleasant to take and free from drug-like effects. It makes no difference how old you are or how young you are—how long you have been under weight—or how much under weight you are—"ironized yeast" tablets are positively guaranteed to pick you right up, and add from five to twenty pounds of good firm flesh in three weeks' time. If they fail get your money back.

Sold by druggists, at $1.00 for a large 60-tablet package, or sent direct from laboratory on receipt of price. Ironized Yeast Co., Desk 206, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

For daring originality of design and exquisite color effects the designers have far surpassed all previous efforts.

We take especial pride in presenting these marvelously beautiful creations in quality silks, all in

Designs Shown Here Exclusively

Mallinson's Printed Pussy Willow

In many designs—color combinations of exotic beauty—suitable for street and dress occasions.

40 Inches wide. Yard.....$4.50

Mallinson's Printed Crepes

Most exquisite and unusual flowered patterns, quaintly demure or daringly brilliant. Many are bordered effects.

52 Inches wide. Yard.....$7.95

Cheney's Printed Rivulay

A charming new member of the famous Cheney family, beautiful printed designs for street frocks on a lustrous faced silk, 36 inches wide, yard, $2.95

Cheney's Printed Crepes

More beautiful than ever, in an entirely new collection of lovely designs and colorings, for both street and dress costumes. 40 inches wide, yard....$3.95

Americana Prints—Here Exclusively

Designed by six well-known American artists—Neysa McMein, Ralph Barton, Rene Clark, Charles B. Falls, Clayton Knight, Katherine Sturgis—these Americana prints form the most notable group of new silks ever presented to the women of America.

Designed especially for the American woman of fashion, Americana prints will express to a marked degree that originality of style for which our women are famous.

Americana Printed Crepes, 39-in., yd.....$3.95

Americana Printed Crepes, 54-in., yd.....$5.95

Silk Section—Street Floor

HOSPITAL FOR COLORED PLANNED IN SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Following the opening a few days ago of the Mills Home for Aged Negroes—made possible under the will of George J. Mills by his daughter, Mrs. Hodge—a movement will be launched in the next few days to raise $75,000 for another charity hospital in Savannah for the colored people.

White leaders are aiding in the movement, headed by Bishop F. F. Reese, of the diocese of Georgia, leader in the inter-racial association in the south. Savannah has one colored hospital, the Georgia infirmary, now, which serves many of the race.

100-YEAR-OLD RELICS SHOWN AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Two relics, each 100 years old, were turned up here today. A pensioners card of 1819 and a United States army "reg" book of 1803.

The former, displayed in the office of Superintendent C. B. Gibson, of the public schools, was the school paper of Ann E. Eppinger, a student at Chatham academy 107 years ago, now owned by Robert Cope. The latter, a copy of "Regulations for Order and Discipline of the Troops of the United States," was shown by Captain L. G. Armstrong, having been presented to him many years ago by William El-singer.

What cordial cheer... in a cup of English tea!

Try it tonight! Tetley Tea, brewed the English way! So deliciously good, you'll never make tea any other way! Just buy a package of Tetley's from your grocer and follow the famous English recipe printed on it.

For more than a hundred years Joseph Tetley and Company have been celebrated importers of tea in London. Tetley's brews stronger and goes farther. Yet costs no more than ordinary teas.

TETLEY TEA
ORANGE PEKOE BLEND
In packages from 10c to $1

Spring Silks
Supreme
In Quality and Beauty

Radiance of color, rare beauty of design, supreme quality of texture, are features that make our display of new spring silks preeminently the most notable we have ever shown!

For daring originality of design and exquisite color effects the designers have far surpassed all previous efforts.

We take especial pride in presenting these marvelously beautiful creations in quality silks, all in

Designs Shown Here Exclusively

Mallinson's Printed Pussy Willow

In many designs—color combinations of exotic beauty—suitable for street and dress occasions.

40 Inches wide. Yard.....$4.50

Mallinson's Printed Crepes

Most exquisite and unusual flowered patterns, quaintly demure or daringly brilliant. Many are bordered effects.

52 Inches wide. Yard.....$7.95

Cheney's Printed Rivulay

A charming new member of the famous Cheney family, beautiful printed designs for street frocks on a lustrous faced silk, 36 inches wide, yard, $2.95

Cheney's Printed Crepes

More beautiful than ever, in an entirely new collection of lovely designs and colorings, for both street and dress costumes. 40 inches wide, yard....$3.95

Americana Prints—Here Exclusively

Designed by six well-known American artists—Neysa McMein, Ralph Barton, Rene Clark, Charles B. Falls, Clayton Knight, Katherine Sturgis—these Americana prints form the most notable group of new silks ever presented to the women of America.

Designed especially for the American woman of fashion, Americana prints will express to a marked degree that originality of style for which our women are famous.

Americana Printed Crepes, 39-in., yd.....$3.95

Americana Printed Crepes, 54-in., yd.....$5.95

Silk Section—Street Floor

Chamberlin - Johnson - DuBose Company.

Cotton Prices Work Lower When Offerings Increase

RANGE IN NEW YORK COTTON.

	Open	High	Low	Close
Mar	19.65	20.00	19.75	19.80
May	19.45	19.80	19.30	19.35
July	18.25	18.60	18.10	18.15
Oct	17.15	17.50	17.00	17.05
Dec	18.15	18.50	18.00	18.05

RANGE IN NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

	Open	High	Low	Close
Jan	19.95	20.10	19.80	19.85
Mar	19.45	19.80	19.30	19.35
May	18.25	18.60	18.10	18.15
July	17.15	17.50	17.00	17.05
Oct	18.15	18.50	18.00	18.05

New York, January 11.—(P)—Early advances in the cotton market today met increased offerings and after selling up to 20 cents March reacted to 19.75, closing at 19.80, compared with 19.85 at the end of last week. The general market closed steady at net declines of 4 to 17 points.

An opening advance of 3 to 12 points was in response to the continued favorable character of the news from Liverpool and Manchester. Private cable advice said that, owing to difficulty in securing desirable cotton in the south, the continent was buying in Liverpool, and this was followed by some extent by the official cables, showing an increased spot business in the English market, with today's sales including 4,000 bales for export.

Other advice indicated that the improved trade reported in cotton goods at Manchester toward the end of last week continued, and the buying promoted here by these advisers probably included some price-fixing in near months, with a little investment buying of later deliveries as well as covering.

Demand was quite readily supplied around 19.49 for May and 18.28 for October, however, and the afternoon market turned easier when there seemed to be considerable local, western and Wall street selling on reports of an unsettled tone in the grain and stock markets.

Reactionary sentiment was considerably in evidence, after the advances of last week, but the selling was not general or aggressive, and after declining to 19.30 for May and 18.05 for October, the market rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest. Much of the trading here was in the shape of switching from near to late months, with spot interests buying March and May, against sales of July and October, presumably to transfer short hedges.

Port receipts today, 22,123. United States port stocks, 1,671,340. Exports today, 11,048, making 4,848,226 so far this season.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK.
New York, January 11.—(P)—Cotton—Spot quiet; middling, 20.55.

CLOSING SLIGHTLY LOWER ON NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

New Orleans, January 11.—(P)—The cotton market today was comparatively quiet and prices fluctuated within a moderate range. Although the start was higher, owing to favorable cables and large spot sales in Liverpool, prices soon turned reactionary, and that was the prevailing trend most of the day, relieved by occasional brief rallies which were short-lived.

The decline was due to realizing and more or less short selling, and the low points of the day were reached in the late trading. There was a moderate rally at the end on shorts covering, and the close showed net losses for the day of 6 to 10 points on end crop months and only 1 point on October.

At the start, as Liverpool came in better than due and spot sales there totaled 10,000 bales, first trades showed gains of 7 points, and this improvement was soon increased to 9 to 11 points, with March trading up to 19.42 and May to 19.02. These proved market to be the high of the day, as the market soon turned reactionary and was on the downgrade most of the day, with occasional short-lived rallies.

The market reached the lows of the day in the late trading, with January at 19.75, March at 18.15 and May at 18.77, or 17 to 25 points below the highs of the early morning. The market rallied moderately right at the end on shorts covering, cutting down the loss for the day. It was reported during the day that a private authority estimated the December consumption at 563,000 bales, against 543,008 in November, 1925, and 533,780 in December, 1924.

Exports for the day totaled only 11,048 bales.

SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.
New Orleans, January 11.—(P)—Spot cotton closed steady, 6 points down; sales, 2,507; good middling, 21.50; receipts, 8,882; stock, 509,323.

News, Views And Reviews

Stock Letters.

JOHN F. CLARK & CO.
New York, January 11.—Encouraged by rumors as to certain large speculators but primarily influenced by the developments in the cotton market, the market presented a weak tone with the exception of some higher priced stocks at the opening in better condition than the previous day. The reason was the realization of some higher priced stocks at the opening in better condition than the previous day. The reason was the realization of some higher priced stocks at the opening in better condition than the previous day.

LIVINGSTON & CO.
New York, January 11.—A very heavy selling movement in the market broke out in the afternoon trading. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

TYNCHON & CO.
New York, January 11.—The market was consistently sold throughout the trading today by the professional element. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

FENNER & BEANE.
New York, January 11.—There was brisk buying at the opening, which carried some of the stocks to new highs. However, the market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—The stock market was quite weak part of the day and the grain market, which opened in a strong sentimentally to the eastward in cotton, set the price of cotton suffered very little. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

LIVINGSTON & CO.
New York, January 11.—The opening advance to the 20-cent level for March contracts was prompted by the continued favorable character of the news from Liverpool and Manchester. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

H. & B. BEER.
New Orleans, January 11.—Responding to better cables and larger spot sales in Liverpool, 10,000 bales, of which 8,000 were American, the market ruled somewhat higher this morning, but heavy realizing at the advance and want of better outside support influenced values to a lower level later in the session.

C. P. ELLIS & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—After the recent substantial improvement it is natural that the market should pause and await further developments. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

TYNCHON & CO.
New York, January 11.—In the southern market demand is reported to be as being exceptionally good, cotton stocks are firmly held, and we cannot locate any pressure to sell or other signs significant of price weakness. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

FENNER & BEANE.
New Orleans, January 11.—Cotton fluctuated within narrow limits in the absence of speculative interest of consequence. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

GRAIN LETTERS.
Chicago, January 11.—WHEAT: All the trade theories of ultimate scarcity of wheat are slowly giving way to the concrete fact of an utter absence of foreign demand for the remaining surplus in North America. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—The market was quite weak part of the day and the grain market, which opened in a strong sentimentally to the eastward in cotton, set the price of cotton suffered very little. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

LIVINGSTON & CO.
New York, January 11.—The opening advance to the 20-cent level for March contracts was prompted by the continued favorable character of the news from Liverpool and Manchester. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

H. & B. BEER.
New Orleans, January 11.—Responding to better cables and larger spot sales in Liverpool, 10,000 bales, of which 8,000 were American, the market ruled somewhat higher this morning, but heavy realizing at the advance and want of better outside support influenced values to a lower level later in the session.

C. P. ELLIS & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—After the recent substantial improvement it is natural that the market should pause and await further developments. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

TYNCHON & CO.
New York, January 11.—In the southern market demand is reported to be as being exceptionally good, cotton stocks are firmly held, and we cannot locate any pressure to sell or other signs significant of price weakness. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

FENNER & BEANE.
New Orleans, January 11.—Cotton fluctuated within narrow limits in the absence of speculative interest of consequence. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

GRAIN LETTERS.
Chicago, January 11.—WHEAT: All the trade theories of ultimate scarcity of wheat are slowly giving way to the concrete fact of an utter absence of foreign demand for the remaining surplus in North America. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—The market was quite weak part of the day and the grain market, which opened in a strong sentimentally to the eastward in cotton, set the price of cotton suffered very little. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

LIVINGSTON & CO.
New York, January 11.—The opening advance to the 20-cent level for March contracts was prompted by the continued favorable character of the news from Liverpool and Manchester. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

H. & B. BEER.
New Orleans, January 11.—Responding to better cables and larger spot sales in Liverpool, 10,000 bales, of which 8,000 were American, the market ruled somewhat higher this morning, but heavy realizing at the advance and want of better outside support influenced values to a lower level later in the session.

C. P. ELLIS & CO.
New Orleans, January 11.—After the recent substantial improvement it is natural that the market should pause and await further developments. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

Stock Prices React Sharply Under Professional Selling

DAILY STOCK SUMMARY.

	Indus.	Rails.
Monday	142.44	116.73
Tuesday	143.38	116.65
Wednesday	143.62	117.00
Thursday	141.05	116.07
Friday	143.62	117.80
Saturday	142.39	116.65
Total stock sales	2,304,200	shares.

New York, January 11.—(P)—Extreme nervousness characterized the trading in today's stock market, which underwent a sharp reaction on selling, precipitated by professional speculators for the decline. Closing quotations disclosed a long list of net declines, ranging from 1 to 9 points, interspersed with a much smaller number of corresponding gains. Total sales ran close to 2,300,000 shares.

The reaction was influenced to a large degree by the circulation of rumors, later proved to be unfounded, that W. C. Durant's automobile magnate, who is reported to have amassed millions in paper profits on the long side of the market in the last 15 months, had died as a result of injuries received in a crash automobile accident in Florida yesterday. United States Cast Iron Pipe, in which Mr. Durant is known to have acquired a large interest, broke 15 points to 192 and then rallied to 198. Speculative uneasiness over the Mexican situation, the heavy calling of loans to correct the large deficit in reserve shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement and commission house advice suggesting a lightning of long accounts, also were factors in the day's selling.

Market Opens Up Firm.
Unexpectedly large increase in the December unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation, made public after the close Saturday, brought in a fairly large volume of week-end buying orders, the execution of which imparted a firm opening to the market. Heavy selling of the motors set in around midday, followed by a drive against some of the high priced industrial specialties. The low prices of the day were generally recorded around the end of the fourth hour, moderate rallies taking place in most sections of the list just before the close.

Commodity markets were mostly unexcited, but not broader and the cash article remains at severe discounts. PROVISIONS: Receipts of hogs at Chicago and at western points were fully as large as expected and weakness in the hog market was felt in products, but a new investment demand appeared on small declines.

COCK ROACH BAY ON FLORIDA COAST GETS BETTER NAME

Washington, January 11.—(P)—At the request of Florida real estate dealers, the National Geographic board has changed the name of Cock Roach Bay. Hereafter it will be known as Shellmound bay, and as such, will not be objectionable to prospective residents. The bay is on the east side of Tampa bay.

Dry Goods.
New York, January 11.—Cotton goods markets were steady, with price levels in moderate demand. Buyers were more numerous in all markets. Yarns showed firmness, but trading was light. Raw silk was from 5 to 10 cents a pound easier on reports of a lower market at Yokohama, and continued resistance to recent advances.

NEW ISSUE $2,500,000 COLUMBUS ELECTRIC & POWER COMPANY SEVEN PER CENT CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK, SERIES B

Redeemable at $115 and accrued dividends. Preferred as to dividends and in case of liquidation. Par Value $100. Dividends payable January 1st and quarterly (outstanding upon completion of present financing)

Bonds (including subsidiaries) $10,368,800
Gold Notes, 5 per cent, due 1927 and 1928 4,500,000
Preferred Stock, 7 per cent, Cumulative (including this issue) 4,500,000
Common Stock (paying 10 per cent dividends) 5,250,000

PRICE 100 FLAT, TO YIELD 7 PER CENT.
COURTS & CO.,
MAIN FLOOR, HURT BUILDING
ATLANTA, GA.
Phone Walnut 9110

PRICES SLIP DOWN ON CURB MARKET

New York, January 11.—(P)—Prices turned decidedly reactionary in today's curb market, but independent strength developed in a few public utilities in which special developments are believed to be pending. Coal stocks displayed strong resistance to selling pressure, Glen Alden closing 2 points higher on the day, despite rumors of an early breaking off of anthracite peace negotiations.

So great was the demand for some of the public utility stocks at the opening that the ticker was about 11 minutes behind the market around the end of the first hour. American Light and Traction soared 13 points to 263, and then fell back to 258 1/2. Northern Ohio Power moved up over a point on total sales in excess of 65,000 shares, and United Light and Power 1 1/2. Lehigh Power securities and Power Corporation, New York, fell back on profit-taking.

Eastern Coal Ralls Strong.
Special strength developed in some of the eastern coals despite pessimistic reports emanating from the conference of miners and operators. Lackawanna was bid up 6 points to 165, the highest price since the declaration of a 100 per cent stock dividend in 1921, on reports of an early distribution of its Glen Alden coal company bonds. Reading showed a net gain of 2 1/4 at 89 1/4, and Lehigh Valley closed 1 3/4 higher at 84 3/4.

Motors Under Pressure.
Motors were under pressure during most of the session. Hudson collapsed from 119 1/2 to 111 1/2, and then rallied to 114 3/8, for a net loss of 4 3/8. Mack Trucks dropped 4 1/4 to 148 1/2, and General Motors closed 3 3/4 higher at 120 1/2.

There were few independent strong spots scattered throughout the list. American Brake Shoe and Foundry just closed at 117 1/2. The American Woolen and Youngstown Sheet and Tube all showed net recessions ranging from 2 to 5 points.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR COTTON STATES

Louisiana: Tuesday, partly cloudy, colder in north portion; Wednesday, partly cloudy, colder in southeast portion. Arkansas: Tuesday, fair, colder in southeast portion; Wednesday, fair. Texas: Tuesday, partly cloudy, colder; Wednesday, partly cloudy. West Texas: Tuesday, fair, colder, except in the Panhandle; Wednesday, fair.

Coffee.
New York, January 11.—Coffee futures were higher today on covering and trade rumors, but the market was not so strong as yesterday. The market was then in a state of confusion, and the price of cotton fell sharply.

NEW ISSUE $2,500,000 COLUMBUS ELECTRIC & POWER COMPANY SEVEN PER CENT CUMULATIVE PREFERRED STOCK, SERIES B

Redeemable at $115 and accrued dividends. Preferred as to dividends and in case of liquidation. Par Value $100. Dividends payable January 1st and quarterly (outstanding upon completion of present financing)

Bonds (including subsidiaries) $10,368,800
Gold Notes, 5 per cent, due 1927 and 1928 4,500,000
Preferred Stock, 7 per cent, Cumulative (including this issue) 4,500,000
Common Stock (paying 10 per cent dividends) 5,250,000

PRICE 100 FLAT, TO YIELD 7 PER CENT.
COURTS & CO.,
MAIN FLOOR, HURT BUILDING
ATLANTA, GA.
Phone Walnut 9110

CLEARINGS IN MACON SHOW BIG INCREASE

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special).—The business year has opened here in good shape, according to reports from business houses and banks. Debits to individual accounts for the week reached a total of $3,388,035.88, or nearly $300,000 above the record for the corresponding week of last year.

Clearings last week totaled $1,964,611.00, a gain of more than $150,000 over the corresponding week of last year.

Money Market.
New York, January 11.—Call money firm; high 4 1/2; low 4; ruling rate 4 1/2. Loans against acceptances 3 1/2. Time loans steady, 60-day, 60-day, 4 1/2; 90-day, 4 1/2; 120-day, 4 1/2; 180-day, 4 1/2.

Foreign exchanges firm; quotations (in cents):
Great Britain, demand 485, cables 483, 60-day bills on banks 480; France, demand 382 1/2, cables 381 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 380; Italy, demand 24 1/2, cables 24 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 24 1/2; Holland, demand 40 1/4, cables 40 1/4, 60-day bills on banks 40 1/4; Sweden, demand 26 1/2, cables 26 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 26 1/2; Spain, demand 14 1/2, cables 14 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 14 1/2; Portugal, demand 17 1/2, cables 17 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 17 1/2; Brazil, demand 14 1/2, cables 14 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 14 1/2; Argentina, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Uruguay, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Chile, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Peru, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Colombia, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Venezuela, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Ecuador, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Panama, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2; Mexico, demand 13 1/2, cables 13 1/2, 60-day bills on banks 13 1/2.

WALL STREET BRIEFS
New York, January 11.—Plans for reorganization of the American Sunnyside tobacco company, in reversionally since last May, are reported to be progressing favorably. Wall street hears various groups of preferred and common shareholders are in harmony on the proposed arrangement which is an assessment of $7 a share on the common stock, and to change the authorized common from 300,000 of $100 par value to 1,000,000 of $10 par value. Under the plan, old $100 par value common stock will be exchanged for preferred stock and new common of $10 par value on the basis of one-half share of preferred and one share of new common for each share of old common now held.

Stockholders of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway company, meeting in Pittsburgh today, authorized an issue of 150,000 shares of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, and to change the authorized common from 300,000 of $100 par value to 1,000,000 of $10 par value. Under the plan, old $100 par value common stock will be exchanged for preferred stock and new common of $10 par value on the basis of one-half share of preferred and one share of new common for each share of old common now held.

Production of refined cottonseed oil from the 1925-1926 cotton crop is estimated at 2,416,046 barrels by H. Bentz company, based on the final crop figures of the department of agriculture, and allowing 800 pounds of seed to the bale of cotton.

National Electric Power company and its subsidiaries have aggregate assets of $30,000,000.

All the Security of an Individual First Mortgage and the Convenience of a Coupon Bond

Do You Want a Guaranteed Income?

Six dollars a year for every one hundred dollars invested; $60 a year for every $1,000—not "maybe," but definite and certain, in fact, a guaranteed income!

That is what our Guaranteed 6% First Mortgage Participation Certificates offer you. The absolute safety of your investment is guaranteed (both principal and interest) by the entire resources of this Company and by the

NATIONAL SURETY COMPANY
(World's Largest Surety Company)

There is no stronger guarantee than this. With the sole exception of Government obligations, there can be no safer investment!

Write or Phone Walnut 2226 for descriptive booklet.

MORTGAGE GUARANTEE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Candler Building Atlanta, Ga.

FENNER & BEANE
NEW YORK NEW ORLEANS

with the utmost courtesy strive to give as complete and efficient brokerage service to their clients as is physically possible. To this end they have equipped their

ATLANTA OFFICE
55 NORTH FORSYTH STREET
B. L. LAYTON, Mgr.
TELEPHONE WALNUT 1092

with the best obtainable direct

New York - New Orleans - Chicago
PRIVATE WIRES

for orders, quotations and current market happenings on

STOCKS BONDS COMMODITIES

In addition complete statistical records are available as well as the various news services, periodicals, etc., which carry valuable market information. FENNER & BEANE maintain branch offices or connections at the leading Southern Cities and are members of the Exchanges listed below.

MEMBERS
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE
LOUISIANA SUGAR & ICE EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS STOCK EXCHANGE
MEMBERS
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE
LOUISIANA SUGAR & ICE EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS STOCK EXCHANGE

NO INVESTOR EVER LOST A DOLLAR IN MILLER BONDS

Do your investments average 6 1/2 per cent to 7 per cent interest return? If not, investigate Miller First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds at once. Bring up your average yield with this safe, liberal-yield security. Unconditionally guaranteed—if you desire. For full information, write for current offerings booklet 14. AK

G. L. MILLER & CO.
HURT BLDG.
ATLANTA, GA.
Telephone WAL. 8906

Do You Want a Guaranteed Income?

Six dollars a year for every one hundred dollars invested; $60 a year for every $1,000—not "maybe," but definite and certain, in fact, a guaranteed income!

That is what our Guaranteed 6% First Mortgage Participation Certificates offer you. The absolute safety of your investment is guaranteed (both principal and interest) by the entire resources of this Company and by the

NATIONAL SURETY COMPANY
(World's Largest Surety Company)

There is no stronger guarantee than this. With the sole exception of Government obligations, there can be no safer investment!

Write or Phone Walnut 2226 for descriptive booklet.

MORTGAGE GUARANTEE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Candler Building Atlanta, Ga.

FENNER & BEANE
NEW YORK NEW ORLEANS

with the utmost courtesy strive to give as complete and efficient brokerage service to their clients as is physically possible. To this end they have equipped their

ATLANTA OFFICE
55 NORTH FORSYTH STREET
B. L. LAYTON, Mgr.
TELEPHONE WALNUT 1092

with the best obtainable direct

New York - New Orleans - Chicago
PRIVATE WIRES

for orders, quotations and current market happenings on

STOCKS BONDS COMMODITIES

In addition complete statistical records are available as well as the various news services, periodicals, etc., which carry valuable market information. FENNER & BEANE maintain branch offices or connections at the leading Southern Cities and are members of the Exchanges listed below.

MEMBERS
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE
LOUISIANA SUGAR & ICE EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS STOCK EXCHANGE
MEMBERS
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK PRODUCE EXCHANGE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE
LOUISIANA SUGAR & ICE EXCHANGE
NEW ORLEANS STOCK EXCHANGE

Associated Gas and Electric System

Founded in 1852

Stability
One of the most far-reaching declines ever experienced by American business occurred in 1921. The volume of manufacture for all lines of industry in the United States in that year was 32% below that of 1920.

For the electric light and power industry, however, the decline in K.W. hours output was only 6.8%. During the same period the output of electricity by the Associated System decreased approximately 0.6%—a negligible amount and only about one-tenth that of the electric light and power industry as a whole.

Despite this slight decline in the output of electricity by the Associated properties, the gross earnings increased 7.3% and the net earnings 35.3%.

